Rhee's War Threat Seen As Bluff by Diplomats

French Would Not Use Koreans for Fear of China Action

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP) — American diplomats were understood today to view South Korean President Syngman Rhee's threat to march against North Korea as a bluff—just what he said it wasn't intended to be.

They also were known to hold out slight hope for his government's offer of troops for Indochina.

A French embassy spokesman said yesterday his government—which still has not received the offer officially—would reject the proferred South Korean division for fear its involvement in the ugly eight-year-old war might bring on open Red Chinese intervention in Indochina.

Ready to Negotiate

The French commissioner general for Indochina said in Bangkok today that his country still is ready to negotiate a settlement with the insurgent Vietminh. Maurice Dejean, the commissioner, charged at a news conference that military help from China is prolonging the conflict.

Dejean said France is trying to prevent "another Korea" and he voiced confidence that the Vietminh rebels would be repelled from the Laotian capital of Luang Prabang. Enemy elements, he said, are within 12½ miles of that city.

In Paris, French officials and those of the invaded kingdom of Laos said there is no foundation for reports that the Laotian government had asked for the ROK troops.

Would Send Forces

In this connection, the South Korean defense minister, Sohn Won Il, said in Seoul his nation is prepared to send land, sea and air forces to help the French. He said they would be volunteers.

Diplomatic officials in Washington were inclined to discount another South Korean proposal—that U. S. Gen. James A. Van Fleet come out of retirement to train both ROK and Indochinese troops. Van Fleet commanded the 8th Army in Korea during the build-up of the ROK's 16 divisions.

Recent moves by Rhee—including the troop offer—were regarded as efforts to underline persisting South Korean unhappiness over the division of Korea at roughly the 38th parallel.

Might Doom All Asia

Rhee's declaration that free Asia must unite to crush the Communist threat goes along with a Washington view that the loss of Indochina would just about doom all southeast Asia to Red domination.

It also squares with a statement by Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, who told a news conference yesterday he favors the idea of cooperation among the non-Communist nations of Asia. Knowland said these countries may be "picked off one by one" if they don't work together.

But spectacular forays like the Korean troop offer are pictured as having no place in long-range plans being shaped by American officials to thwart Red intentions to envelop southeast Asia and its rich raw materials.

President Eisenhower is understood to have named a special committee to study ways and means of keeping Indochina out of Red hands. The group reportedly includes Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith and Deputy Secretary of Defense Roger M. Kyes.

Body Is Cremated

Hartsdale, Feb. 13 (AP)—The body of Mrs. Ruth Fagan Bodenheim, slain in New York city last Saturday with poet Maxwell Bodenheim, was cremated here yesterday. The instructions were received from her mother in Detroit. A lawyer, Herman Rosenthal, was the only person to accompany the body here. Mrs. Bodenheim, 35, was the third wife of the 58-year-old poet, who was a literary rage of the 1920's. He was buried Wednesday. He was shot to death and she was stabbed in the $5 a week room of Harold Weinberg, a Greenwich Village dishwasher and former mental patient.

Russia Considered Having Top Chance To Expose Split

Soviet Might Reveal Rift in Big 4 Meeting Over Policy on Red China

Seoul, Feb. 13 (AP)—Informed sources in Korea, who have negotiated with the Communists, said today Russia stands a good chance to achieve one of its major objectives—exposing a split in western policy towards Red China—if a major power conference on the Far East is held.

The question of convening a Far Eastern conference is under discussion among the Big Four foreign ministers now meeting in Berlin. The news that Russia's V. M. Molotov will propose an assembly including representatives of Asian nations came as no surprise here.

A top authority, who declined to be identified, said such a move was anticipated when efforts to arrange a political settlement on Korea failed.

Want Far East Parley

"We long ago advised Washington that the Communists have no intention of concluding a political agreement on Korea," he said. "What they really want is a Far Eastern conference in which those countries with ideas of neutralism will be represented."

Both India and Indonesia are considered to be in that category. Burma also would lean toward the "neutral" side.

Observers see these three main Russian objectives in such a conference.

1. To bring into the open known differences among the Western democracies, especially on a joint policy toward Red China.

2. To delay restoration of Japan's strength so that it will be a weak point in the pattern of power in the Far East.

3. To revive charges that the

Herman Buller Pleads Innocent to Link With Canadian Child Ring

Montreal, Que., Feb. 13 (AP)—A Montreal lawyer, arrested as he awaited a plane for Israel, is to face a preliminary hearing Feb. 19 on a charge of lending his legal talents to a mammoth U. S.-Canadian baby smuggling ring.

The lawyer, Herman Buller, pleaded innocent at his arraignment last night and was released under $2,000 bail.

Police arrested him at Montreal's Dorval Airport yesterday as he was about to leave the country with his wife and parents. He was charged with "aiding, abetting, counselling and advising" in connection with an indictable offence. It was charged also that he had violated a law covering falsification of documents, including birth registries.

Acquitted Two Years Ago

Buller's attorney said Buller had been acquitted of similar charges two years ago.

New York and Quebec authorities, who have carried on a joint year-long investigation of an alleged million-dollar black market in babies, said they believed more than 1,000 infants from the Montreal area have been sold illegally in the eastern part of the United States in the last 10 years.

Most of the buyers, the authorities said, were childless Jewish couples. The price range was reported to be from $3,000 to $10,000 each for the babies. Many of the buyers were told the babies were born of Jewish parents, whatever their origin.

Ernest Mitler, an assistant New York city district attorney, arrived here Wednesday to help Quebec authorities with the case.

He told reporters more arrests would be made in the next few days. A number of Montreal lawyers, doctors, nurses, nursing home operators and welfare workers were involved, he said, but many apparently were innocent dupes.

Toronto police said 30 of the babies illegally in the United States have been located in New York and Brooklyn. Five were said to have been deported back to Canada.

Efforts to stamp out the traffic have been hindered because many of the parents who adopted the black market babies have declined to testify. Most have insisted on promises that they be allowed to keep the children even though the contracts for them have proved to be illegal.

Killed in Freak Mishap

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—A young man was killed instantly late last night in a freak accident on Brooklyn's section of the belt parkway. George Cox, 22, of Brooklyn, was driving south near Cropsey avenue when, police said, the high wind apparently caused him to lose control of the car. It spun around, the door flew open and Cox was thrown out and killed.

Berardi Is 'Fair' After Accident On First Avenue

Vincent T. Berardi, 38, of East Kingston, was reported in "fair" condition at Benedictine Hospital today following an accident yesterday afternoon in which, according to police, his car ran into an embankment and turned over.

Hospital authorities said he suffered abrasions and possible concussion.

Officers Louis W. Sapp, Jr., and Harold DeGraff, who investigated, reported that Berardi was operating his 1950 sedan south on First avenue shortly after 4 p. m. when he ran into a bank and turned over. The car had to be towed away.

Italian Police Chisel Name Off Rome Protestant Church

Rome, Feb. 13 (AP)—Italian police descended today upon Rome's Church of Christ, chiseled its name off a wall and took a news cameraman of the Associated Press into custody for photographing them.

They vainly ordered an AP correspondent away from the scene.

The word "Christ" in six-inch-high letters, was the first word removed in this action against the Protestant religious organization which has American financial backing.

The Roman police struck quickly after worshippers were forced to leave a Church of Christ in Leghorn late last night.

AP Photographer Remo Nassi, an Italian citizen, was seized with his camera and hustled off in a police car despite protests. AP Correspondent Allan Jacks, a U. S. citizen, was ordered to leave, but refused.

Later Nassi was released without charges and his camera was returned.

The police left as soon as the name had been entirely removed from the wall.

The sign was removed on direct orders of the Rome questura, or police headquarters, which is under the Italian Ministry of Interior.

The new premier of predominately Roman Catholic Italy, Mario Scelba, is the minister of the interior as well as government chief.

In 1950, when the cult's troubles with Italian authorities first began, the Italian Interior Ministry was headed by Scelba. He then criticized the Church of Christ and other Protestant Evangelical cults as "aiding communism in Italy."

Just two days ago, The Vatican and the Italian government celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Lateran pacts. The pacts es-

Ike Ready For Notes On A-Power

President Will Send His Special Message on Sharing Energy With U. S. Allies

Thomasville, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower will send Congress a special message next week on peacetime use of atomic energy by private industry in the United States and on sharing of certain atomic information with America's allies.

The President's plans were announced here today as he was spending the weekend bird hunting as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

In Two Sections

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen the special message to Congress will be in two main sections.

One, said Hagerty, will outline suggested legislation "to encourage peacetime use of atomic energy in this country by private enterprise."

The second section, he added, will deal with proposals Eisenhower has made in the past—in his Jan. 7 State of the Union message, for example—for changes in the law to permit exchange of tactical information about atomic weapons with America's allies.

Such information would deal with the effects of atomic weapons, and not in any way with how to produce the weapons.

Eisenhower has said he has no

Harlem Fire Sends 200 To Street as Stores Burn

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Fire in a row of Harlem stores today sent 200 men, women and children out of an adjoining tenement into 15-degree cold.

But freezing firemen who battled the stubborn, smokey blaze for more than two hours before bringing it under control managed to keep it from spreading to the six-story tenement building.

Five alarms were sounded as the store building, itself two stories high, beginning at 6:47 a. m. was swept by flames and smoke.

Dense black smoke billowed across the St. Nicholas avenue-125th street area, covering the evacuees and hundreds of spectators.

Only one injury was reported, a fireman with a cut hand.

Those forced out of their homes were given temporary shelter in nearby hospitals and schools.

Soviet Plan Is Rejected By Austria

Molotov Offer Would Keep Big 4 Troops in Country After Treaty Signing

Berlin, Feb. 13 (AP)—Austria formally rejected today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposal that the Big Four powers keep troops in the country even after conclusion of a treaty giving Austria its independence.

Foreign Minister Leopold Figl said such an arrangement would mean there would be no liberation of his country.

He told Molotov, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Ministers Anthony Eden and Georges Bidault that it was impossible for the Austrian government to accept the Molotov proposal.

He asked which of the Big Four would be willing to present such a proposition regarding his own country to his own parliament.

Figl made his direct approach inside the chamber of the Big Four conference, to which the Austrian delegation had been invited.

The western foreign ministers already have written off hope of concluding an Austrian state treaty at this conference, although the debate on it will run into an extraordinary Sunday session.

West in Sympathy

Western sources said it was hard to imagine anything more "brutal and cynical" than the Austrian treaty demands which Molotov has put before the parley here, including a demand that Big Four troops remain in Austria even after the conclusion of an independence treaty. The Austrian government also branded the program unacceptable.

Meanwhile, Molotov was believed to be in touch with Moscow and probably the Chinese Communist government in Peiping on the western proposal for calling of a Korean peace conference April 15 at Geneva, Switzerland.

Under the Western plan, the United States, Russia, Britain and France would send invitations to the conference, but Red China would not be one of the sponsoring powers.

"Molotov has insisted that China be accepted as a great power and that what is needed is a five-power meeting on the Far East. The argument which has been going on here, therefore, is over acceptance of Red China as a big power and on this point Western officials say there will be absolutely no compromise.

Today's session was pegged to the Austrian question and while it was still to be formally approved, the first Sunday meeting

RKO Pictures, Central Are Week's Leaders on Market

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—This was the week for individual stars in the stock market.

Sensational performances were given by RKO pictures and New York Central, and many another individual stock held the stage for brief periods.

The market as a whole was able to advance slightly in its sixth straight weekly gain. By and large the market's action was considered to be a phase of consolidation following recent sharp forward movements.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 20 cents on the week and closed at $114.90, the highest point that the average has reached since March 25 of last year. It now stands only $1.40 away from the 1953-54 peak of Jan. 5, 1953, which was the best level that the average had reached since June 4, 1930.

Chartists feel that the market has an excellent chance of moving ahead to new highs from present levels after going through a period of quietly irregular price movements. But there still is a group in Wall Street that insists the market will go through a price reaction before trying for new highs, if it follows its previous patterns.

Far less attention was paid this week to the action of the market as a whole than to the individual stars.

Last weekend, Howard Hughes, chairman and principal stockholder of RKO Pictures, offered to buy outstanding common stock for $6 a share, in order to have undisputed control of the company.

The price of the stock at the previous Friday close had been 2⅞. Buying orders poured on to the floor of the New York Stock Exchange at the opening Monday.

The deluge was so great that the New York Stock Exchange called in its specialists and members of the board of governors headed by Chairman Richard M. Crooks. It took them well over two hours to match up buying and selling orders at what they considered a fair price.

All transactions were lumped into a single huge block of 200,000 shares at 5⅜. At the end of the week, their price judgment proved to be sound. The stock closed at 5¼ up 2⅜ on the week. The enormous total of 776,800 shares was traded altogether.

RKO topped the most active list the first three days of the week and then it dropped to second place behind New York Central.

The railroad stock got its big boost as a result of a battle of financial giants for control of the road. Robert R. Young, the perpery ex-chairman of Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, demanded that he be named chairman of New York Central, another move in his longtime dream to get control of the road.

The directors of Central said "no," and Young vowed to win his way in a proxy fight in which each share of common stock has one vote. There was an immediate rush to buy by speculators who felt that the stock would be pushed up fast when the big fel-

Tax Conference Is Set for March

Buffalo, Feb. 13 (AP)—Frank C. Moore, head of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, says he will call a conference of municipal and county representatives in Albany sometime next month to discuss ways to equalize tax assessments within localities.

Moore told a newsman that the state could do nothing officially about individual tax assessment equalities.

But the meeting, he said, "will be the first time that representatives of all units of a state have been brought together to discuss the matter."

Extra Jury Panel Ordered by Judge For March Court

24 More Jurors Drawn for Trial Term Which Opens March 1; 60 to Report

Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein, who will preside at the March trial term of Supreme Court, which will be convened at 11 a. m. March 1, has taken notice of the difficulty in securing a trial panel of jurors at this season of the year and made an order for the drawing of an extra panel of 24 jurors in addition to the regular panel of 36 jurors usually drawn. The order for the extra panel is pursuant to the provisions of the Judiciary Law.

At the March term there usually is difficulty is obtaining from the regular panel of 36 jurors a sufficient number of trial jurors to carry on court work. An extra panel must then be drawn. To avoid this additional expense and confusion, Justice Bookstein directed the county clerk to draw and have served with the regular panel an additional 24 names. During March, rural folks are usually engaged in important spring work and excuses from service as jurors must be exercised in hardship cases. To avoid the confusion of serving an additional panel 60 trial jurors will report the opening day.

Drawn on the grand jury panel for March are the following:

Dewey Signs Bill Permitting More Mental Health Services

Albany, Feb. 13 (AP) — Gov. Dewey today signed a bill paving the way for localities to provide a wide range of mental health services. Costs will be shared equally by the state and the communities taking part.

The administration measure, introduced by Assemblyman Lucio F. Russo, Staten Island Republican, authorizes the establishment of community mental health boards by counties and cities.

The boards are empowered to:

1. Establish psychiatric clinics.

2. Develop mental health services for schools and courts.

3. Provide in-patient services in general hospitals for short-term treatment or observation.

4. Establish rehabilitation services for those who have been mentally ill.

5. Devise such other mental health services as may be of value to the community.

Emphasis will be on prevention of mental illness. The program is similar in its set-up to the state-aided local health programs, in which prevention of disease is the primary objective.

In a memorandum on the bill, Dewey said that "the field of mental health offers a unique opportunity to reclaim the productive value of men and women who might otherwise spend their days within the walls of a mental institution."

The program envisioned by the measure will provide a basis for "the orderly development and growth of an important social service at the community level," Dewey said.

In addition to footing half the bill, the state will undertake overall supervision of the program.

The annual cost to the state will be determined by the number of communities that set up mental health services.

The new project is another step

Van Amburgh Family Flees From Rooms Over Drugstore, Damage Estimated $100,000; Stone Ridge Blaze Costs $25,000; Four Glasco Children Dead

Fire swept through three buildings in Marlborough's business section last night, routing a family of nine and causing the community's theatre to be evacuated of its patrons as a safety measure. Tentative estimates of damage ranged as high as $100,000.

It was Ulster county's third large fire to break out within a 24-hour period. Thursday night a fire claimed the lives of four children in glasco and Friday noon a $25,000 fire destroyed an 180-year-old farm house near Stone Ridge.

The Marlborough fire, discovered about 9:30 p. m. Friday, totally destroyed the frame buildings along Main street housing Petker's Pharmacy and Postel Hardware stores and a store front used by Postel for storage of stock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Amburgh, and their seven small children were forced to flee from their apartment over the hardware store. None was injured.

Order at Theatre

Shortly after the fire was discovered, the announcement was made at the Marlborough Theatre, which is separated from the drug store by a narrow alley, that there was a fire on Main street and patrons were asked to file out in an orderly fashion while the movie was continued. The evacuation was carried out in a calm manner, authorities reported later. The number of patrons in the theatre at the time was not available this morning.

The theatre building itself escaped the fire, although it may have sustained slight heat damage, it was reported.

Five Fire Companies There

Firemen and appartus from four neighboring communities were called in to assist the Marlborough Fire Department in preventing the flames from spreading through the entire business section. Departments with men and equipment on the scene were Marlborough, Newburgh, Middlehope, Milton and Highland.

Fire Chief Russel Atkins of Marlborough directed the firefighters.

The buildings, which were burned completly down, were located on the east side of Main street, which is the name given Route 9W within the hamlet.

Heavy Friday night traffic on Route 9W was detoured over Western avenue, White street and Birdsall avenue.

Sheriff Handles Traffic

Sheriff Cluett Schantz and Deputy James Marano, both Marlborough residents, and Deputy Chester Wolven directed traffic and handled police work at the scene.

No authentic estimate of damage had been made this morning, due to the fact that a large proportion of the loss sustaned will involve the stock at the hardware and drug stores. Unofficial and tentative estimates made by observers ranged as high as $100,000, and it was pointed out that the hardware store had a large stock at the time of the fire. The buildings themselves were frame structures, two stories high when viewed from the street, and three stories from the rear.

Smoulders This Morning

The fire was still smouldering in the ruins this morning.

Authorities said that the fire apparently started in the drug store, and may have been caused by an overheated oil stove.

Supervisor Fred S. Fowler of the town of Marlborough reported early today that traffic conditions through the hamlet were hazardous due to the ice formed on the highway from the tons of water poured on the blaze last night. A deputy sheriff was assigned to traffic duty there today.

Landmark Burns

Shortly before noon on Friday, fire destroyed the farm home of Eugene Gorton, a landmark about two miles south of Stone Ridge.

Firemen from Accord, Kripplebush and Stone Ridge companies, with help from the High Falls water tank truck and crew, fought the blaze. Some of the furniture was saved, a neighbor said.

State police of the Ellenville station said damage has been tentatively estimated at $25,000.

The fire, which apparently started in or near the kitchen at the rear of the house, burned up through the roof and destroyed the interior, leaving only the thick stone walls standing, firemen and troopers said.

Fire Chief Harry Cornish of Stone Ridge said this morning

Infighting Is Seen Bound To Continue

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. George (D.-Ga.) said today the battle royal between Republicans and Democrats over GOP charges of past Communist-coddling—which roared to a cross-country crescendo on Lincoln Day—may not, after all, have much lasting effect.

"This is a political year and you've got to expect things like that," the veteran Georgia Democrat said in an interview. With congressional elections coming this year, he said, he doesn't think anything much can be done to stop the infighting.

Republican speakers—with some notable exceptions — loaded their oratorical artillery for the big Lincoln Day barrage yesterday with much the same sort of denunciation that had already brought Democratic complaints. Democrats have accused some GOP spokesmen of going beyond the laws of political warfare by seeking, so the Democrats said, to fasten the epithets of communism and treason on the minority party. President Eisenhower this week advised his fellow party members against

Efforts to stamp out the traffic have been hindered because many of the parents who adopted the black market babies have declined to testify. Most have insisted on promises that they be allowed to keep the children even though the contracts for them have proved to be illegal.

Berardi Is 'Fair' After Accident On First Avenue

Vincent T. Berardi, 38, of East Kingston, was reported in "fair" condition at Benedictine Hospital today following an accident yesterday afternoon in which, according to police, his car ran into an embankment and turned over.

Hospital authorities said he suffered abrasions and possible concussion.

Officers Louis W. Sapp, Jr., and Harold DeGraff, who investigated, reported that Berardi was operating his 1950 sedan south on First avenue shortly after 4 p. m. when he ran into a bank and turned over. The car had to be towed away.

Killed in Freak Mishap

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—A young man was killed instantly late last night in a freak accident on Brooklyn's section of the belt parkway. George Cox, 22, of Brooklyn, was driving south near Cropsey avenue when, police said, the high wind apparently caused him to lose control of the car. It spun around, the door flew open and Cox was thrown out and killed.

Ike Ready For Notes On A-Power

President Will Send His Special Message on Sharing Energy With U. S. Allies

Thomasville, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower will send Congress a special message next week on peacetime use of atomic energy by private industry in the United States and on sharing of certain atomic information with America's allies.

The President's plans were announced here today as he was spending the weekend bird hunting as the guest of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey.

In Two Sections

James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen the special message to Congress will be in two main sections.

One, said Hagerty, will outline suggested legislation "to encourage peacetime use of atomic energy in this country by private enterprise."

The second section, he added, will deal with proposals Eisenhower has made in the past—in his Jan. 7 State of the Union message, for example—for changes in the law to permit exchange of tactical information about atomic weapons with America's allies.

Such information would deal with the effects of atomic weapons, and not in any way with how to produce the weapons.

Eisenhower has said he has no

Harlem Fire Sends 200 To Street as Stores Burn

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Fire in a row of Harlem stores today sent 200 men, women and children out of an adjoining tenement into 15-degree cold.

But freezing firemen who battled the stubborn, smokey blaze for more than two hours before bringing it under control managed to keep it from spreading to the six-story tenement building.

Five alarms were sounded as the store building, itself two stories high, beginning at 6:47 a. m. was swept by flames and smoke.

Dense black smoke billowed across the St. Nicholas avenue-125th street area, covering the evacuees and hundreds of spectators.

Only one injury was reported, a fireman with a cut hand.

Those forced out of their homes were given temporary shelter in nearby hospitals and schools.

Soviet Plan Is Rejected By Austria

Molotov Offer Would Keep Big 4 Troops in Country After Treaty Signing

Berlin, Feb. 13 (AP)—Austria formally rejected today Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's proposal that the Big Four powers keep troops in the country even after conclusion of a treaty giving Austria its independence.

Foreign Minister Leopold Figl said such an arrangement would mean there would be no liberation of his country.

He told Molotov, Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Foreign Ministers Anthony Eden and Georges Bidault that it was impossible for the Austrian government to accept the Molotov proposal.

He asked which of the Big Four would be willing to present such a proposition regarding his own country to his own parliament.

Figl made his direct approach inside the chamber of the Big Four conference, to which the Austrian delegation had been invited.

The western foreign ministers already have written off hope of concluding an Austrian state treaty at this conference, although the debate on it will run into an extraordinary Sunday session.

West in Sympathy

Western sources said it was hard to imagine anything more "brutal and cynical" than the Austrian treaty demands which Molotov has put before the parley here, including a demand that Big Four troops remain in Austria even after the conclusion of an independence treaty. The Austrian government also branded the program unacceptable.

Meanwhile, Molotov was believed to be in touch with Moscow and probably the Chinese Communist government in Peiping on the western proposal for calling of a Korean peace conference April 15 at Geneva, Switzerland.

Under the Western plan, the United States, Russia, Britain and France would send invitations to the conference, but Red China would not be one of the sponsoring powers.

"Molotov has insisted that China be accepted as a great power and that what is needed is a five-power meeting on the Far East. The argument which has been going on here, therefore, is over acceptance of Red China as a big power and on this point Western officials say there will be absolutely no compromise.

Today's session was pegged to the Austrian question and while it was still to be formally approved, the first Sunday meeting

Tax Conference Is Set for March

Buffalo, Feb. 13 (AP)—Frank C. Moore, head of the State Board of Equalization and Assessment, says he will call a conference of municipal and county representatives in Albany sometime next month to discuss ways to equalize tax assessments within localities.

Moore told a newsman that the state could do nothing officially about individual tax assessment equalities.

But the meeting, he said, "will be the first time that representatives of all units of a state have been brought together to discuss the matter."

Extra Jury Panel Ordered by Judge For March Court

24 More Jurors Drawn for Trial Term Which Opens March 1; 60 to Report

Supreme Court Justice Isadore Bookstein, who will preside at the March trial term of Supreme Court, which will be convened at 11 a. m. March 1, has taken notice of the difficulty in securing a trial panel of jurors at this season of the year and made an order for the drawing of an extra panel of 24 jurors in addition to the regular panel of 36 jurors usually drawn. The order for the extra panel is pursuant to the provisions of the Judiciary Law.

At the March term there usually is difficulty is obtaining from the regular panel of 36 jurors a sufficient number of trial jurors to carry on court work. An extra panel must then be drawn. To avoid this additional expense and confusion, Justice Bookstein directed the county clerk to draw and have served with the regular panel an additional 24 names. During March, rural folks are usually engaged in important spring work and excuses from service as jurors must be exercised in hardship cases. To avoid the confusion of serving an additional panel 60 trial jurors will report the opening day.

Drawn on the grand jury panel for March are the following:

Van Amburgh Family Flees From Rooms Over Drugstore, Damage Estimated $100,000; Stone Ridge Blaze Costs $25,000; Four Glasco Children Dead

Fire swept through three buildings in Marlborough's business section last night, routing a family of nine and causing the community's theatre to be evacuated of its patrons as a safety measure. Tentative estimates of damage ranged as high as $100,000.

It was Ulster county's third large fire to break out within a 24-hour period. Thursday night a fire claimed the lives of four children in glasco and Friday noon a $25,000 fire destroyed an 180-year-old farm house near Stone Ridge.

The Marlborough fire, discovered about 9:30 p. m. Friday, totally destroyed the frame buildings along Main street housing Petker's Pharmacy and Postel Hardware stores and a store front used by Postel for storage of stock.

Mr. and Mrs. William Van Amburgh, and their seven small children were forced to flee from their apartment over the hardware store. None was injured.

Order at Theatre

Shortly after the fire was discovered, the announcement was made at the Marlborough Theatre, which is separated from the drug store by a narrow alley, that there was a fire on Main street and patrons were asked to file out in an orderly fashion while the movie was continued. The evacuation was carried out in a calm manner, authorities reported later. The number of patrons in the theatre at the time was not available this morning.

The theatre building itself escaped the fire, although it may have sustained slight heat damage, it was reported.

Five Fire Companies There

Firemen and appartus from four neighboring communities were called in to assist the Marlborough Fire Department in preventing the flames from spreading through the entire business section. Departments with men and equipment on the scene were Marlborough, Newburgh, Middlehope, Milton and Highland.

Fire Chief Russel Atkins of Marlborough directed the firefighters.

The buildings, which were burned completly down, were located on the east side of Main street, which is the name given Route 9W within the hamlet.

Heavy Friday night traffic on Route 9W was detoured over Western avenue, White street and Birdsall avenue.

Sheriff Handles Traffic

Sheriff Cluett Schantz and Deputy James Marano, both Marlborough residents, and Deputy Chester Wolven directed traffic and handled police work at the scene.

No authentic estimate of damage had been made this morning, due to the fact that a large proportion of the loss sustaned will involve the stock at the hardware and drug stores. Unofficial and tentative estimates made by observers ranged as high as $100,000, and it was pointed out that the hardware store had a large stock at the time of the fire. The buildings themselves were frame structures, two stories high when viewed from the street, and three stories from the rear.

Smoulders This Morning

The fire was still smouldering in the ruins this morning.

Authorities said that the fire apparently started in the drug store, and may have been caused by an overheated oil stove.

Supervisor Fred S. Fowler of the town of Marlborough reported early today that traffic conditions through the hamlet were hazardous due to the ice formed on the highway from the tons of water poured on the blaze last night. A deputy sheriff was assigned to traffic duty there today.

Landmark Burns

Shortly before noon on Friday, fire destroyed the farm home of Eugene Gorton, a landmark about two miles south of Stone Ridge.

Firemen from Accord, Kripplebush and Stone Ridge companies, with help from the High Falls water tank truck and crew, fought the blaze. Some of the furniture was saved, a neighbor said.

State police of the Ellenville station said damage has been tentatively estimated at $25,000.

The fire, which apparently started in or near the kitchen at the rear of the house, burned up through the roof and destroyed the interior, leaving only the thick stone walls standing, firemen and troopers said.

Fire Chief Harry Cornish of Stone Ridge said this morning

Infighting Is Seen Bound To Continue

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Sen. George (D.-Ga.) said today the battle royal between Republicans and Democrats over GOP charges of past Communist-coddling—which roared to a cross-country crescendo on Lincoln Day—may not, after all, have much lasting effect.

"This is a political year and you've got to expect things like that," the veteran Georgia Democrat said in an interview. With congressional elections coming this year, he said, he doesn't think anything much can be done to stop the infighting.

Republican speakers—with some notable exceptions — loaded their oratorical artillery for the big Lincoln Day barrage yesterday with much the same sort of denunciation that had already brought Democratic complaints. Democrats have accused some GOP spokesmen of going beyond the laws of political warfare by seeking, so the Democrats said, to fasten the epithets of communism and treason on the minority party. President Eisenhower this week advised his fellow party members against

Mercury Hits 46 Below Upstate; Snow Is Forecast

Albany, Feb. 13 (AP)—They say the mercury hit 46 below zero early today in the Adirondacks north of Utica.

That was at Forestport. Residents of the nearby village of Ohio reported —44 and Old Forge —35.

Those were unofficial readings, but, man, it's mighty cold.

Temperatures worked upward today after 36 hours of subfreezing weather in much of the state.

Cold Brook and Poland, also near Utica, reported 25 below overnight, and Massena, in the north, —22.

The Weather Bureau forecast light snow today or tonight in most of the state and temperatures rising to 20 above or higher, except for the north portions 5-10 above.

Other overnight readings: Watertown and Glens Falls—18, Rome —14, Utica —10, Albany —9, Syracuse and Binghamton —3, Poughkeepsie 0, Elmira plus 1, Newburgh 3, Buffalo 10 and New York city 12.

RKO Pictures, Central Are Week's Leaders on Market

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—This was the week for individual stars in the stock market.

Sensational performances were given by RKO pictures and New York Central, and many another individual stock held the stage for brief periods.

The market as a whole was able to advance slightly in its sixth straight weekly gain. By and large the market's action was considered to be a phase of consolidation following recent sharp forward movements.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up 20 cents on the week and closed at $114.90, the highest point that the average has reached since March 25 of last year. It now stands only $1.40 away from the 1953-54 peak of Jan. 5, 1953, which was the best level that the average had reached since June 4, 1930.

Chartists feel that the market has an excellent chance of moving ahead to new highs from present levels after going through a period of quietly irregular price movements. But there still is a group in Wall Street that insists the market will go through a price reaction before trying for new highs, if it follows its previous patterns.

Far less attention was paid this week to the action of the market as a whole than to the individual stars.

Last weekend, Howard Hughes, chairman and principal stockholder of RKO Pictures, offered to buy outstanding common stock for $6 a share, in order to have undisputed control of the company.

The price of the stock at the previous Friday close had been 2⅞. Buying orders poured on to the floor of the New York Stock Exchange at the opening Monday.

The deluge was so great that the New York Stock Exchange called in its specialists and members of the board of governors headed by Chairman Richard M. Crooks. It took them well over two hours to match up buying and selling orders at what they considered a fair price.

All transactions were lumped into a single huge block of 200,000 shares at 5⅜. At the end of the week, their price judgment proved to be sound. The stock closed at 5¼ up 2⅜ on the week. The enormous total of 776,800 shares was traded altogether.

RKO topped the most active list the first three days of the week and then it dropped to second place behind New York Central.

The railroad stock got its big boost as a result of a battle of financial giants for control of the road. Robert R. Young, the perpery ex-chairman of Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, demanded that he be named chairman of New York Central, another move in his longtime dream to get control of the road.

The directors of Central said "no," and Young vowed to win his way in a proxy fight in which each share of common stock has one vote. There was an immediate rush to buy by speculators who felt that the stock would be pushed up fast when the big fel-

Italian Police Chisel Name Off Rome Protestant Church

Rome, Feb. 13 (AP)—Italian police descended today upon Rome's Church of Christ, chiseled its name off a wall and took a news cameraman of the Associated Press into custody for photographing them.

They vainly ordered an AP correspondent away from the scene.

The word "Christ" in six-inch-high letters, was the first word removed in this action against the Protestant religious organization which has American financial backing.

The Roman police struck quickly after worshippers were forced to leave a Church of Christ in Leghorn late last night.

AP Photographer Remo Nassi, an Italian citizen, was seized with his camera and hustled off in a police car despite protests. AP Correspondent Allan Jacks, a U. S. citizen, was ordered to leave, but refused.

Later Nassi was released without charges and his camera was returned.

The police left as soon as the name had been entirely removed from the wall.

The sign was removed on direct orders of the Rome questura, or police headquarters, which is under the Italian Ministry of Interior.

The new premier of predominately Roman Catholic Italy, Mario Scelba, is the minister of the interior as well as government chief.

In 1950, when the cult's troubles with Italian authorities first began, the Italian Interior Ministry was headed by Scelba. He then criticized the Church of Christ and other Protestant Evangelical cults as "aiding communism in Italy."

Just two days ago, The Vatican and the Italian government celebrated the 25th anniversary of the Lateran pacts. The pacts es-

Dewey Signs Bill Permitting More Mental Health Services

Albany, Feb. 13 (AP) — Gov. Dewey today signed a bill paving the way for localities to provide a wide range of mental health services. Costs will be shared equally by the state and the communities taking part.

The administration measure, introduced by Assemblyman Lucio F. Russo, Staten Island Republican, authorizes the establishment of community mental health boards by counties and cities.

The boards are empowered to:

1. Establish psychiatric clinics.
2. Develop mental health services for schools and courts.
3. Provide in-patient services in general hospitals for short-term treatment or observation.
4. Establish rehabilitation services for those who have been mentally ill.
5. Devise such other mental health services as may be of value to the community.

Emphasis will be on prevention of mental illness. The program is similar in its set-up to the state-aided local health programs, in which prevention of disease is the primary objective.

In a memorandum on the bill, Dewey said that "the field of mental health offers a unique opportunity to reclaim the productive value of men and women who might otherwise spend their days within the walls of a mental institution."

The program envisioned by the measure will provide a basis for "the orderly development and growth of an important social service at the community level," Dewey said.

In addition to footing half the bill, the state will undertake overall supervision of the program.

The annual cost to the state will be determined by the number of communities that set up mental health services.

The new project is another step

Shokan

Shokan, Feb. 12—One of the column readers has sent in some lines, 12 verses in all, written by Mary Ferguson Winchell, April 26, 1829, upon the death of her son, James, 39, who was drowned near his home at Winchell's Falls (a mile or so below the present Ashokan Dam) while crossing to the Tongore side of the Esopus creek in time of spring freshet. James was one of seven sons of Lemuel Winchell, member of a troop of horse as well as gristmill and foundry owner supplying Continental troops, during the Revolutionary War. Doubtless most descendants of this pioneer couple will be surprised to learn that they have Scotch blood in their veins. The maiden name of Lemuel's wife has been hitherto unknown to local members of the Winchell clan, though the spouses of other male forbears in a direct line back to Robert Winchell, who settled on the site of Boston in 1630 are recorded in a family genealogy. Incidentally, the recently found verse brings to light still another of the scores of drownings in the sometimes raging Esopus, during the past the three centuries of the white man's familiarity with this picturesque stream whose waters now quench the thirst of millions.

Chester Miller of the Acorn Hill section of Olive was a recent caller here. Mr. Miller, who boards at the Allen Rose farm, is a brother of Granville Miller who formerly resided in the village center.

Joe Elfant, Ashokan grocer, is much improved following a fall on the ice in which he suffered a fractured bone in his right leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Thor Kroh and small daughter have moved from Kingston to Mt. Tremper. A former radio broadcaster in New York, he is the son of Mrs. V. Christensen who has a summer place in Shokan. The Krohs lived here for several months after leaving the metropolis.

Birthdays coming soon include that of Hewitt Osborn, Athens resident, who will be 85 Sunday, Feb. 14. Hewitt who operates his own sawmill up in Greene county, was born and brought up here on what is now the Frank Gordon place in Ashokan. He is a faithful member of the Olive and Hurley O. S. Church here.

Margaret Yerry one of Shandaken's best known older residents, was a caller here Saturday. Mrs. Yerry now makes her home in Fox Hollow.

Mrs. Edward Adsit of the village center is being treated for a painful injury to her neck which took place Friday when she lifted a heavy object in her home.

A brace of crows was seen flying due south Friday morning and at a fast clip, too. Our Old Timer when asked if this was good, replied "Not on the face of it, son, unless you go by contrary opinion, like that Ruminator feller in The Freeman.".

TROUBLE MAKER — Seyed Ayatollah Kashani, Iran's most influential religious leader, threatens to overthrow Premier Fazollah Zahedi's government which is about to reach final agreement with Britain in the long dispute over Iranian oil. Kashani's authority springs from his position as the nation's most powerful religious leader and from pro-Kashani gangs which roam Tehran.

Self-Contempt on Top of Self-Pity Gets You Nowhere

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Joan is a pretty girl of 15. Always people have commented on her resemblance to her father. Because of this, Mr. B. has enjoyed the flattery she receives. So it's easy for her to cajole extra money from him for anything she wants.

Mrs. B. resents her extravagance and Mr. B.'s indulgence. She attacks them, not by words, but by a consistent policy of self-denial.

For two years, she's refused to buy a new fur coat, though her old one is costly to keep in repair. She won't buy the orthopedic shoes she finds comfortable, preferring to complain about the cheaper ones that hurt her.

For neither the coat nor the shoes are as important to Mrs. B. as possessing excuses for the self-pity by which she can attack her family.

How foolish she is! Because the self-pity is utterly unproductive. It does not change extravagance and indulgence into economy and discipline. Its only result is impatient irritation in Joan and Mr. B.

That's because it's the bad kind of self-pity. It's infected with self-contempt. If we can remove the self-contempt from Mrs. B.'s self-pity, we have a very respectable feeling indeed.

For example, genuine self-pity would send Mrs. B. right down to the store for those orthopedic shoes she needs. It would not permit her to suffer the pain that results from her cheap shoes. What holds on to the suffering is the poisonous element of self-contempt in her self-pity.

And I repeat, it gets her nowhere. It produces no effect on the extravagance and indulgence she resents; nor does it produce material results of a new coat and comfortable shoes.

Isn't it absurd? Yet many of us, quite unaware of what we're doing, allow ourselves to waste years of joy and self-respect in just the kind of ioditic, dead-end war against ourselves, our needs and our own interests.

If we are healthy people, we won't go in for ineffective attitudes. We want results from them.

So if we deny ourselves a coat we need, we do it for a purpose. We apply the money we would pay for it to the new rug we would enjoy more; or use our money to purchase music lessons for the daughter whose talent gives us delight

We just don't waste time with the kind of self-contemptuous denial and complaining that makes us sacrifice our needs for nothing but perpetual and humiliating defeat.

Say Compulsory Law Will Increase Rates

If the Hults compulsory automobile insurance bill (Senate 146) becomes law in New York state, some 2,000,000 car owners who want to continue to finance their automobile insurance will have to pay an extra $19,000,000, according to Walter Donnaruma and Roland Augustine, local insurance agents.

Donnaruma and Augustine said that the two million owners now paying monthly installments for automobile liability and property damage insurance will be required to pay annual premiums in full.

"It seems logical that most of them will be required to obtain loans from small loan companies to pay their premiums in advance," the insurance agents said, pointing out that they will be paying interest of 10.8 per cent of their present premiums to borrow upwards of $220,000,000.

These figures, Donnaruma and Augustine said, refute the claims of the bill's proponents that its enactment will not cost the insured "another penny."

A little ammonia mixed with fresh water will act as a deodorizer. Allow the mixture to stand in a bowl overnight in the room or closet that needs freshening.

Radio Telescope Planned

Amsterdam, Netherlands (AP)—The largest radio telescope on the European Continent will be erected in the village of Dwingeloo in one of the northern provinces of the Netherlands. Holland's leading astronomer Dr. Jan Hendrik Oort said the telescope is a gigantic aerial-system for picking up and measuring a very high frequency radiations from celestial bodies which can't even be observed with the strongest telescope. This modern science recently has led to important discoveries on the dimensions of the universe.

Shokan

Shokan, Feb. 12—One of the column readers has sent in some lines, 12 verses in all, written by Mary Ferguson Winchell, April 26, 1829, upon the death of her son, James, 39, who was drowned near his home at Winchell's Falls (a mile or so below the present Ashokan Dam) while crossing to the Tongore side of the Esopus creek in time of spring freshet. James was one of seven sons of Lemuel Winchell, member of a troop of horse as well as gristmill and foundry owner supplying Continental troops, during the Revolutionary War. Doubtless most descendants of this pioneer couple will be surprised to learn that they have Scotch blood in their veins. The maiden name of Lemuel's wife has been hitherto unknown to local members of the Winchell clan, though the spouses of other male forbears in a direct line back to Robert Winchell, who settled on the site of Boston in 1630 are recorded in a family genealogy. Incidentally, the recently found verse brings to light still another of the scores of drownings in the sometimes raging Esopus, during the past the three centuries of the white man's familiarity with this picturesque stream whose waters now quench the thirst of millions.

Chester Miiler of the Acorn Hill section of Olive was a recent caller here. Mr. Miller, who boards at the Allen Rose farm, is a brother of Granville Miller who formerly resided in the village center.

Birthdays coming soon include that of Hewitt Osborn, Athens resident, who will be 85 Sunday, Feb. 14. Hewitt who operates his own sawmill up in Greene county, was born and brought up here on what is now the Frank Gordon place in Ashokan. He is a faithful member of the Olive and Hurley O. S. Church here.

Margaret Yerry one of Shandaken's best known older residents, was a caller here Saturday. Mrs. Yerry now makes her home in Fox Hollow.

Mrs. Edward Adsit of the village center is being treated for a painful injury to her neck which took place Friday when she lifted a heavy object in her home.

A brace of crows was seen flying due south Friday morning and at a fast clip, too. Our Old Timer when asked if this was good, replied "Not on the face of it, son, unless you go by contrary opinion, like that Ruminator feller in The Freeman.".

The Mature Parent

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Joan is a pretty girl of 15. Always people have commented on her resemblance to her father. Because of this, Mr. B. has enjoyed the flattery she receives. So it's easy for her to cajole extra money from him for anything she wants.

Mrs. B. resents her extravagance and Mr. B.'s indulgence. She attacks them, not by words, but by a consistent policy of self-denial.

For two years, she's refused to buy a new fur coat, though her old one is costly to keep in repair. She won't buy the orthopedic shoes she finds comfortable, preferring to complain about the cheaper ones that hurt her.

For neither the coat nor the shoes are as important to Mrs. B. as possessing excuses for the self-pity by which she can attack her family.

How foolish she is! Because the self-pity is utterly unproductive. It does not change extravagance and indulgence into economy and discipline. Its only result is impatient irritation in Joan and Mr. B.

That's because it's the bad kind of self-pity. It's infected with self-contempt. If we can remove the self-contempt from Mrs. B.'s self-pity, we have a very respectable feeling indeed.

For example, genuine self-pity would send Mrs. B. right down to the store for those orthopedic shoes she needs. It would not permit her to suffer the pain that results from her cheap shoes. What holds on to the suffering is the poisonous element of self-contempt in her self-pity.

And I repeat, it gets her nowhere. It produces no effect on the extravagance and indulgence she resents; nor does it produce material results of a new coat and comfortable shoes.

Isn't it absurd? Yet many of us, quite unaware of what we're doing, allow ourselves to waste years of joy and self-respect in just the kind of ioditic, dead-end war against ourselves, our needs and our own interests.

If we are healthy people, we won't go in for ineffective attitudes. We want results from them.

So if we deny ourselves a coat we need, we do it for a purpose. We apply the money we would pay for it to the new rug we would enjoy more; or use our money to purchase music lessons for the daughter whose talent gives us delight

We just don't waste time with the kind of self-contemptuous denial and complaining that makes us sacrifice our needs for nothing but perpetual and humiliating defeat.

Say Compulsory Law Will Increase Rates

If the Hults compulsory automobile insurance bill (Senate 146) becomes law in New York state, some 2,000,000 car owners who want to continue to finance their automobile insurance will have to pay an extra $19,000,000, according to Walter Donnaruma and Roland Augustine, local insurance agents.

Donnaruma and Augustine said that the two million owners now paying monthly installments for automobile liability and property damage insurance will be required to pay annual premiums in full.

"It seems logical that most of them will be required to obtain loans from small loan companies to pay their premiums in advance," the insurance agents said, pointing out that they will be paying interest of 10.8 per cent of their present premiums to borrow upwards of $220,000,000.

These figures, Donnaruma and Augustine said, refute the claims of the bill's proponents that its enactment will not cost the insured "another penny."

A little ammonia mixed with fresh water will act as a deodorizer. Allow the mixture to stand in a bowl overnight in the room or closet that needs freshening.

Radio Telescope Planned

Amsterdam, Netherlands (AP)—The largest radio telescope on the European Continent will be erected in the village of Dwingeloo in one of the northern provinces of the Netherlands. Holland's leading astronomer Dr. Jan Hendrik Oort said the telescope is a gigantic aerial-system for picking up and measuring a very high frequency radiations from celestial bodies which can't even be observed with the strongest telescope. This modern science recently has led to important discoveries on the dimensions of the universe.

Would Give Schools Same as Foreign Aid

Atlantic City, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—A suggestion that the United States spend as much money on education as it does on foreign aid was put forth last night by Jordan L. Larson of Mount Vernon, N. Y.

Larson told the annual National School Boards Assn. convention, "we have spent more in the past nine years to help people outside the U. S. A. (excluding military spending) than the total cost of education in our country."

Larson, who is superintendent of schools in Mount Vernon and incoming president of the American Assn. of School Administrators, asked:

"If we are willing to spend billions of dollars to guarantee economic security for millions of people thousands of miles from our shores . . . should we not be willing to spend at least as much or more . . . to train and educate our own children?"

Earlier Honore E. Savaria urged the school board members to lift "the Iron Curtain in school affairs" and open their meetings to newspaper reporters.

"There are still school boards . . . which operate in the dark and, as a result, they are suspect," he said. Savaria is president of the West Springfield, Mass., Board of Education and the Massachusetts Assn. of School Committees.

Tiger Is Docile

New York (AP)—The Bronx Zoo has decided recently its Warracaba tiger is strong enough to come out of the hospital and go on display. It is 14 inches high and 20 inches long. It has small ears shaped like teaspoons, dachshund-like legs and a stubby, three-inch tail. The Warracaba tiger is a relatively docile South American bush dog. The name comes in part from the bone-chilling reputation, a mixture of fantasy and legend, it has achieved among natives of British Guiana, and the fact that it sounds like a noisy bird, the Warracaba. "It wags its tail frequently," says a zoo expert.

Hints on Shopping For Curtain Fabrics

Chief Cause of Fires

A 10-year study reveals that the four leading causes of fires in the United States are carelessness with matches and smoking materials; faulty heating systems; misuse of flammable fluids; and misuse of electricity.

Modernizing Doors

Panel doors can be converted to flush doors by removing the strips of wood molding and then attaching a thin sheet of plywood to both surfaces. The job will take only a few hours.

Fixture Colors Are Durable

The colors in which modern plumbing fixtures are available are lasting, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out.

Because they are permanently fused into the glaze or enamel of the fixtures, they will retain their sharpness of tint indefinitely, the bureau says, and they cannot be rubbed off or removed. Neither are the colors attacked by acids normally found in the home. This is due to the fact that all colored plumbing fixtures are made with an acid-resisting surface.

The availability of plumbing fixtures in a range of beautiful colors has been a tremendous stimulant to the modernization of bathrooms, kitchen and powder rooms, the bureau points out.

Until a few years ago the use of colored plumbing fixtures was confined largely to homes. Now, however, colored plumbing fixtures are being installed in a wide variety of buildings ranging from hospitals and schools, to motels hotels, restaurants and theatres.

Fire Hazards in Home Listed in New Booklet

What would you do if fire broke out in your home tonight?

That is one of the questions asked—and answered—in "The Fire Safe Home," an illustrated booklet available without charge from the National Board of Fire Underwriters, 85 John street, New York city.

The booklet, which points out that 30 Americans die in fires each day, offers a room-by-room checklist of fire hazards in the home. It also offers specific instructions on methods of eliminating those hazards.

Smoke Means Waste

An oil burner that is properly adjusted should be practically smokeless. If an oil burner smokes constantly, a serviceman should be called in to regulate it. Smoke not only means wasted fuel but it also makes a mess of the outside of the house.

Need Monthly Bath

House plants need an occasional bath, especially those with heavy foliage. Use cold water and a soft clean cloth for this purpose. Once a month is usually sufficient to keep pores open.

How to Test Gasket

Rubber gaskets on refrigerator doors should be replaced when the door won't hold a sheet of ordinary paper in place when closed.

Heat-Proof Windows

The green-tinted heat-absorbing glass now available as special equipment in automobile windshields will soon be made in the form of drawn window glass.

Heat New House Slowly

A new house should be heated very slowly. This will give it a chance to dry thoroughly and will reduce the risk of having cracks develop in wood and plaster.

Plastics Better Than Metals

Restrictions on the use of copper and other critical materials brought about by the Korean war resulted in the development of various new products for homes. The National Association of Home Builders contends that many of the new products will never be displaced when the materials they substitute are again in plentiful supply.

Plastic water pipes have been developed and are now being used for both water and gas mains. Plastic shower fixtures also are made.

For Outlet Boxes

Plastic electric outlet boxes to house new low-voltage switch systems, allow the use of aluminum wire, which has not been as scarce as copper.

Plastic-like, long-life paints have been developed in multi-colors. They resist chipping and scratching, and because of non-static properties, they resist dust and dirt.

An inexpensive, glass-coated metal faucet is being produced to resist rust and corrosion. This saves copper and brass and is installed in a radically new method that cuts home building costs.

Sewer Pipes Practical

Sewer pipes are now made to resist underground root growths which clog many drains. They are leak-proof and rust-proof, require no lead calking or other expensive labor installation costs.

A laminated wood paneling has been fused under heat and pressure from wood flakes and chips, producing a veneer that is stronger than most wood and costs less than plywood. Experts describe this as one answer to any threatened lumber shortage and call it the lumber industry's most outstanding development in 30 years. It holds nails and screws near the edges without splitting.

Stairs Built Too Steep May Prove Dangerous

More attention should be given to stairways in the home, according to the Housing and Home Finance Agency. Stairs are often built steep to save space, but it may be a dangerous economy.

Treads of steps should be sufficiently deep and risers high enough for comfortable and safe use. Treads 10 inches deep with a one-inch overhang and risers seven-and-one-half inches high are recommended.

Stairs should be no steeper than 30 to 35 degrees. A pull-down ladder from the attic may be safer than steep stairs.

Natural Wood Tone

An inviting kitchen containing cabinets and counters with a natural wood finish has walls painted in a velvety gray-green. Against this background the copper pans that hang near the range show to special advantage. The wood tones of the cabinets appear again in the brown and buff pattern of the linoleum. On the chairs at the breakfast bar are cushions of a rosy terra cotta tone that is repeated again in the paint used for the ceiling.

Check the Ridge Boards

The next time you happen to be on the roof, check to see if the two boards along the ridge that form the saddle are in good condition. Stick them with a knife or nail to see if they are rotting. If they need replacing, be sure to paint the new boards on the bottom side before nailing them on.

Cleaning Tileboard

Tileboard should be cleaned with warm water and a mild soap. Don't use harsh cleaning fluids or powders as these will dull the finish. Coating the surface with wax improves its appearance and makes cleaning easier.

Use Big Brush

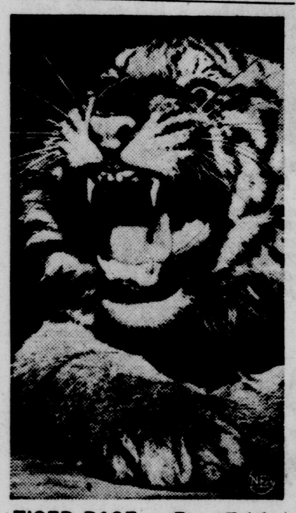
When applying fast-drying interior paints, use the largest brush that you can handle with ease. The more paint you can apply at one time, the less chance there will be of edge drying before they are joined.

Outside Draperies

To give the appearance of width in a room, hang draperies outside the window pane using a broad valance to emphasize horizontal line. This also tends to increase the light in a room.

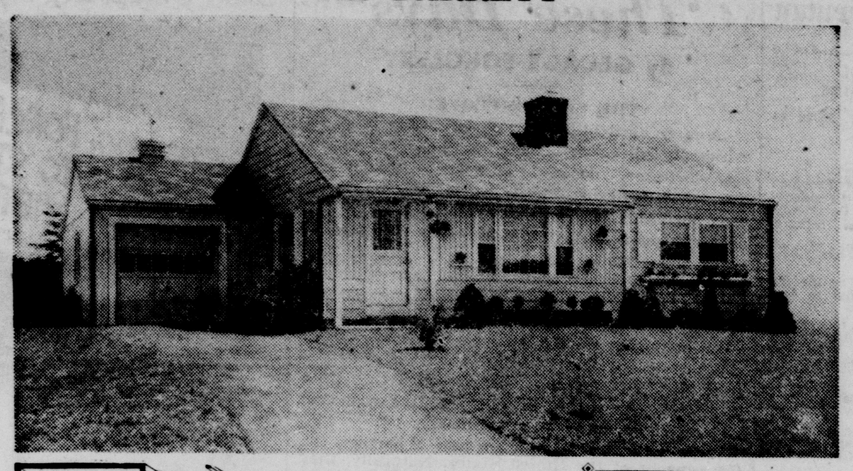
Sharp Tools Ease Task

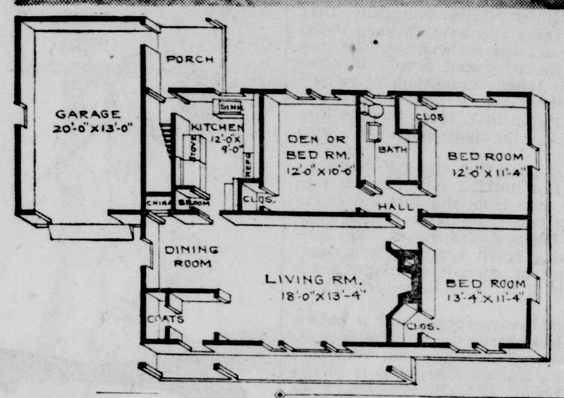
Sharpen up the tools. A clean, sharp hoe works twice as easily as a dull rusty one.



TIGER RAGE — Zoo officials don't know whether it's love or hate that contorts the face of Sheik, the royal Bengal tiger at the Memphis, Tenn., zoo. He made this show of teeth when he got the first glimpse of Sheba, tigress in a nearby cage.

The BARRETT





Five Well-Planned Rooms

Rooms	Five
Bedrooms	Three
Closets	Six
Cubage:
House	23,500 ft.
Garage	4,300 ft.
Dimensions	42' x 27'

Typical of the one story homes so popular with today's home builders, "The Barrett," featured today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, contains five well planned rooms.

Measuring 42'x27', "The Barrett" has a cubage of 23,500 feet. The attached one car garage has a cubage of 4300 feet. At least an 85 feet lot would be required to build the house and the attached garage. This type of home will look equally attractive in any setting but to most effectively emphasize its charmingly simple architecture it should have a sufficient amount of land on all four sides.

The slight roof overhang at the front of the house provides protection for the front entry and at the same time affords an opportunity for a distinctive planting arrangement under the picture window. This little terrace thus not only adds decorative appeal to the exterior appearance of "The Barrett" but also helps to insure a more attractive view from the living room picture window.

Included in the spacious living room is a dining area which receives pleasant light and good ventilation through the window in the left wall. This area contains ample space for your dining set, the china closet built into the back wall makes an excellent storage place for your china and glass ware. You can have drawers installed in the lower section of the closet and keep your table linen there.

Both regular bedrooms occupy the right wing of "The Barrett." These rooms feature excellent lighting and cross ventillation; each room has a large closet. Either of these rooms could be used as the master bedroom.

Amply lighted and ventilated by double windows in the back wall, the den or bedroom can serve either use with equal ease. This room also could be used as a guest room if you so desire. The large closet in the left wall will come in handy regardless of the use to which you decide to put this room.

Planned strictly as a work center, the kitchen contains no space for a breakfast nook. However, the dining room can very conveniently be used for all your meals. Every piece of equipment in the kitchen is within easy reach; the spacious broom closet can easily hold all your cleaning supplies and equipment.

Since there is no space provided for the laundry in the house proper, it must be installed in the basement of "The Barrett." The laundry should be located under the kitchen, while the heating plant can be placed under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for easy access to the yard and also as a safety measure.

Excess Humid Air Damages Interiors

Hot water, steam from cooking, and various modern appliances add moisture to home interiors. Any steps which can be taken to eliminate excessive humid air from home interiors will prevent moisture from entering walls and ceilings and causing damage that is costly to repair. Excessive moisture within a house can even cause the paint on the outside of the structure to blister and peel. Exhaust fans in kitchen, bathroom and laundry will carry much of this moisture outside. Opening windows for short periods when steam is excessive will accomplish the same result.

Storing Cement

Small quantities of dry Portland cement can be kept for future use by storing in a glass container with an air-tight lid.

Increase Efficiency

Replacement of older boilers with new boilers specifically designed for a certain fuel will increase the overall efficiency of the heating system.

Storm Sash Unmatched For Comfort in Winter

Nothing really takes the place of storm sash in regions with real winters.

The 1½ to two inches of dead air space between tight-fitted storm sash and weather-stripped windows is hard to duplicate in insulating value.

Another advantage is indirect ventilation. Without storm sash, a direct blast of cold air pours in when you ventilate a room. With storm windows you can open the outer window in one place and the inner window in another place to break the wind.

Jackets for Plant Pots

Colorful new jackets made of plastic sheeting and embossed with new three-dimensional textures are being shown for clay flower pots. These are cut to fit snugly around standard red clay flower pots from 3 to 4½ inch in size.

On the chairs at the breakfast bar are cushions of a rosy terra cotta tone that is repeated again in the paint used for the ceiling.

Check the Ridge Boards

The next time you happen to be on the roof, check to see if the two boards along the ridge that form the saddle are in good condition. Stick them with a knife or nail to see if they are rotting. If they need replacing, be sure to paint the new boards on the bottom side before nailing them on.

Cleaning Tileboard

Tileboard should be cleaned with warm water and a mild soap. Don't use harsh cleaning fluids or powders as these will dull the finish. Coating the surface with wax improves its appearance and makes cleaning easier.

Use Big Brush

When applying fast-drying interior paints, use the largest brush that you can handle with ease. The more paint you can apply at one time, the less chance there will be of edge drying before they are joined.

Outside Draperies

To give the appearance of width in a room, hang draperies outside the window pane using a broad valance to emphasize horizontal line. This also tends to increase the light in a room.

Sharp Tools Ease Task

Sharpen up the tools. A clean, sharp hoe works twice as easily as a dull rusty one.

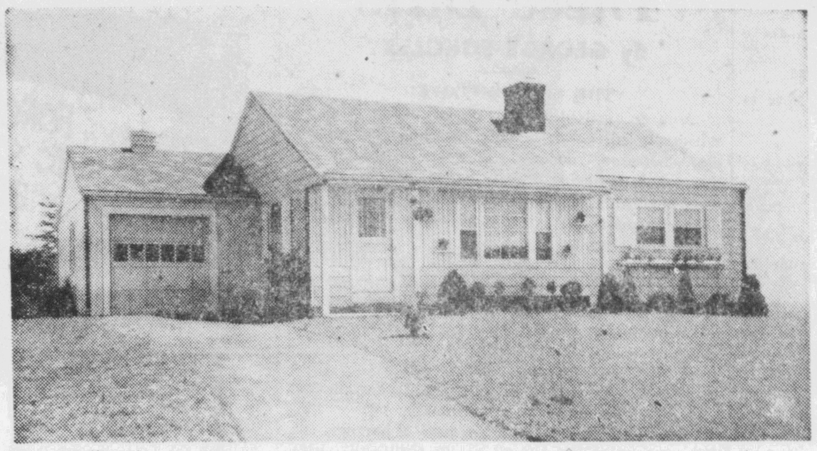
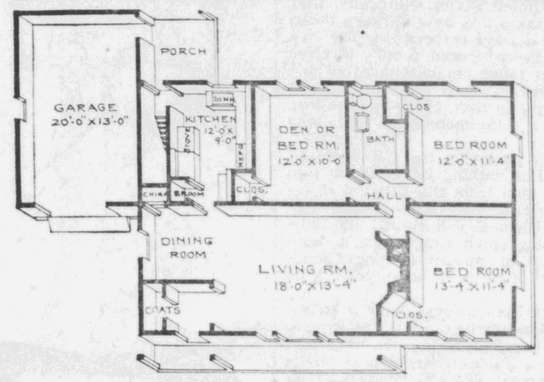
The BARRETT





Five Well-Planned Rooms

Bedrooms	Three
Cubage:
House	23,500 ft.
Garage	4,300 ft.
Dimensions	42' x 27'

Typical of the one story homes so popular with today's home builders, "The Barrett," featured today by the Home of the Week Plan Service, contains five well planned rooms.

Measuring 42'x27', "The Barrett" has a cubage of 23,500 feet. The attached one car garage has a cubage of 4300 feet. At least an 85 feet lot would be required to build the house and the attached garage. This type of home will look equally attractive in any setting but to most effectively emphasize its charmingly simple architecture it should have a sufficient amount of land on all four sides.

The slight roof overhang at the front of the house provides protection for the front entry and at the same time affords an opportunity for a distinctive planting arrangement under the picture window. This little terrace thus not only adds decorative appeal to the exterior appearance of "The Barrett" but also helps to insure a more attractive view from the living room picture window.

Included in the spacious living room is a dining area which receives pleasant light and good ventilation through the window in the left wall. This area contains ample space for your dining set, the china closet built into the back wall makes an excellent storage place for your china and glass ware. You can have drawers installed in the lower section of the closet and keep your table linen there.

Both regular bedrooms occupy the right wing of "The Barrett." These rooms feature excellent lighting and cross ventillation; each room has a large closet. Either of these rooms could be used as the master bedroom.

Amply lighted and ventilated by double windows in the back wall, the den or bedroom can serve either use with equal ease. This room also could be used as a guest room if you so desire. The large closet in the left wall will come in handy regardless of the use to which you decide to put this room.

Planned strictly as a work center, the kitchen contains no space for a breakfast nook. However, the dining room can very conveniently be used for all your meals. Every piece of equipment in the kitchen is within easy reach; the spacious broom closet can easily hold all your cleaning supplies and equipment.

Since there is no space provided for the laundry in the house proper, it must be installed in the basement of "The Barrett." The laundry should be located under the kitchen, while the heating plant can be placed under the living room. Be sure to provide bulkheads for easy access to the yard and also as a safety measure.

Excess Humid Air Damages Interiors

Hot water, steam from cooking, and various modern appliances add moisture to home interiors. Any steps which can be taken to eliminate excessive humid air from home interiors will prevent moisture from entering walls and ceilings and causing damage that is costly to repair. Excessive moisture within a house can even cause the paint on the outside of the structure to blister and peel. Exhaust fans in kitchen, bathroom and laundry will carry much of this moisture outside. Opening windows for short periods when steam is excessive will accomplish the same result.

Storing Cement

Small quantities of dry Portland cement can be kept for future use by storing in a glass container with an air-tight lid.

Increase Efficiency

Replacement of older boilers with new boilers specifically designed for a certain fuel will increase the overall efficiency of the heating system.

Storm Sash Unmatched For Comfort in Winter

Nothing really takes the place of storm sash in regions with real winters.

The 1½ to two inches of dead air space between tight-fitted storm sash and weather-stripped windows is hard to duplicate in insulating value.

Another advantage is indirect ventilation. Without storm sash, a direct blast of cold air pours in when you ventilate a room. With storm windows you can open the outer window in one place and the inner window in another place to break the wind.

Jackets for Plant Pots

Colorful new jackets made of plastic sheeting and embossed with new three-dimensional textures are being shown for clay flower pots. These are cut to fit snugly around standard red clay flower pots from 3 to 4½ inch in size.

PLAN FOR ORDERLY GROWTH

Erection of a multi-million dollar plant by International Business Machines Corporation in the Town of Ulster just north of Kingston appears to be the first step in the industrial growth of the immediate area. Undoubtedly other concerns will seek location here. The coming of I.B.M. is going to attract many new families to the area and Kingston and the outlying district are bound to grow. Kingston already has a zoning law but surrounding townships lack plans for an orderly growth and protection of homes already built.

The Town of Ulster, which surrounds the City of Kingston, is bound to experience a rapid growth when I.B.M. opens its plant here. Two years ago the Town of Ulster sought the advice of an expert from the New York State Department of Commerce relative to a planned community. A study was made at that time but to date the Town Board has taken no action toward appointment of a Planning Board which would make a study of the needs of the town and then submit to the people of the township a proposed plan or zoning regulation.

For the orderly growth of a community, a long range plan is necessary. To protect owners of homes already built and to assure future home owners of reasonable protection from encroachment by undesirable industry or business within a residence area, it is imperative that a Planning Commission be appointed in suburban areas to work out a plan for orderly growth of the community. A plant of the size which I.B.M. plans to erect in the Town of Ulster, with possible employment of 7,000, is bound to attract many new home owners to the area and unless a long range and controlled program for building is in force the future of the surrounding community, so far as desirability for residence purposes is concerned, may be in jeopardy. The people of this area owe it to I.B.M. to see that a high standard of residence desirability is maintained and that future home owners are assured of protection from undesirable construction in residence areas.

There was a time when a certain brand of coffee was advertised as "fit for a king." The way coffee prices are today it would take a king to afford it.

MISERY PROGRAMS

A great many radio and television programs depend for their audience appeal on exploiting human grief and misfortune. The formats of these programs are very much the same; unfortunate people come before the microphones or the television cameras and tell their story. They are then awarded with all sorts of prizes, ranging from money to clothing and home appliances. It may be questioned, however, whether what these people receive is a fair exchange for the privacy and dignity which they lose.

Recently New York City Welfare Commissioner Henry McCarthy asked one of these programs to quit luring needy people to New York in the hope of getting a chance to appear. He said that too many would-be contestants end up on the city's relief rolls. Such programs create the impression that "destitute people in the United States have no place to go—and this in the face of the most comprehensive Community chest and private and public welfare organizations in the world."

The Commissioner's stand is well taken. It is possible that many of these programs are well intentioned and in a small way do aid some needy people. But there is something insensitive and unworthy about bringing people who need help before the public eye to bare their souls in exchange for assistance. Programs which do this make the misery and agony of human beings something to amuse and entertain other human beings. This can be degrading for those who watch as well as for those who allow their sorrow to be traded upon.

When parents find that their little darlings have become big terrors they might best stop a moment and recall their own childhood.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

THE SELF-EMPLOYED

A large element in the American population is self-employed. Grocers, butchers, musicians, writers, lecturers, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, clergymen, manicurists—the list is long of Americans honorably engaged in numerous services and arts who manage their own affairs on a comparatively small scale.

This country was built by such self-employed citizens. Practically all of our great corporations are the product of their genius and success. Many of them remain small businessmen. Many of them continue to engage in efforts at smaller or larger fees. This, in some countries, is called the petite bourgeoisie, the lower middle-class, the economic and social backbone of any country.

Now such men and women have a partner, the Government of the United States. Naturally, they have to pay income taxes and have to keep books and records just like a large corporation. The cost of such records, by inexperienced people, involves lots of time, which is tough on self-employed people who cannot afford to work only 40 hours a week. There is no living in that. Many have to hire an accountant (also a self-employed person), who charges for his time.

The income tax is squeezing the self-employed person to the wall. But nothing is harder on him than to have a field man from the Internal Revenue Bureau show up two years later to challenge his judgment as to business deductions. The self-employed person, using small capital, often operating his business out of current earnings, needs as much elbow room, if he is to be successful, as a large corporation.

A very distinguished lady, whose name is known to most, very often lectures before large audiences. This is an excruciating business, often requiring many hours of travel. Each engagement is physically and mentally trying. Ofter it involves pleasant but exhausting social engagements which are essential to the business. (This is also true of concert artists who travel.) The lady arrives at the train very tired but she has a room on the train, a bedroom or a compartment or a drawing room, whichever is available. She requires a room often because she has to do some writing on the train.

Two years later, a field man showed up and questioned her judgment as to the use of drawing rooms, costing extra fares. She asked me about it and I told her that her judgment ought to prevail, that she was as much entitled to keep herself in shape for the next engagement, so that she looked fresh and spoke ably, as a cigarette company was entitled to spend money to advertise its wares.

Some traveling salesmen work on commission, being allowed a drawing account. An important element in their selling ability is a capacity for good-fellowship. That often comes to a considerable expenditure for entertainment.

Larger corporations can absorb these expenditures in their stride. The self-employed take it out of their income. In their record of deductions, such items stand out like sore thumbs, often seeming large for the volume of business they do, because a fellow figures that if he does not get the account this year, good-fellowship may bring it to him next year. It is as much an investment as buying shares in General Motors. Two years later, the field man shows up and insists on disallowing the entertainment costs. There is a prolonged argument in which neither side convinces the other.

I am not criticizing the field men nor even the Internal Revenue Bureau. The system needs revision if self-employed citizens are to continue to exist. Those who can afford to hire accountants are advised as to best procedure, but no one can really know because it becomes a matter of judgment, not of rule.

Meanwhile, savings become difficult and the self-employed person finds that he is setting nothing aside for a prolonged illness, for his wife and children, should he die. For ten months of the year, he hypnotizes himself into believing that he is doing well. On January 15, he makes his estimate and knows that he is in difficulties; on March 15, he is in trouble. The tax may leave him without sufficient working capital. He is reduced to the proletariat, to being a man who works for another.

This is a serious problem that requires serious attention. It is altering our social system.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

OVERWEIGHT AND THE AGING PROCESS

Now that there are more old men and women than any other one group in the population, research physicians are studying the problem of the aging process. One of their definite findings is that aging and high blood pressure are often found together and that when the lining of the blood vessels accumulates deposits of cholesterol (atherosclerosis) the blood pressure rises and the individual shows other evidences of aging. While a diet rich in fat has been considered by many to be the chief cause of fat deposits in the blood vessels, this has not really been proven as many men and women of middle age who live on a mixed, not a fat, diet may acccumulate these cholesterol deposits to the same extent as those who eat more fat.

In Geriatrics, Dr. Campbell Moses discusses various diets, various glands — thyroid, sex, adrenal and others. Thus ACTH, the secretion of the adrenal and pituitary glands, may alter the rate of development of experimental atherosclerosis.

It is generally conceded that the death rates among the very obese (50-to-100 pounds overweight) from heart and blood vessel (cardiovascular) disease are considerably higher than the rates of individuals of normal weight." Thus in Archives of Internal Medicine, Dr. S. L. Wilens reports that in a large series of necropsies (examinations of bodies after death) that in the coronary arteries (blood vessels feeding the heart muscle itself), almost twice as many of the poorly nourished groups, as the obese groups, have little or no atherosclerosis but other research workers found that obesity increased the percentage of cases with diabetes and hypertension.

Closely related to the problem of obesity and atherosclerosis is the heredity background of the individual as obesity and atherosclerosis are not always found together. "In view of the recognized psychologic and nerve and gland factors in causing high blood pressure and obesity, it should be emphasized that the interplay of emotional factors resulting in high blood pressure and/or obesity may provide the proper stimulus for the rapid concentration of the atherosclerotic process, that is, the emotions can cause atherosclerosis to develop quickly. Since it has been demonstrated that the atherosclerosis process may develop rapidly, it must be concluded that relatively brief acute episodes of sclerosis (hardening of blood vessels), whether induced emotionally or by some other epicodes, may cause the abrupt development of dangerous atherosclerosis conditions."

What do we learn from the above information about atherosclerosis, which is one cause of the aging process?

Two factors are of outstanding importance in the development of atherosclerosis: (1) the cholesterol (fat) in the circulating blood, and, (2) the stress and strain on the arteries carrying the blood.

While cutting down on fat does not seem to greatly decrease the tendency to atherosclerosis, nevertheless preventing obesity (gain in weight) should be a factor in delaying old age. We must never forget that "lean men live longer."

Rapidly Approaching a Fateful Decision

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA) — Dwight D. Eisenhower would never have lived to become Supreme Commander in Europe nor President of the United States if he had not skimmed through three narrow escapes while learning to fly a Stearman trainer in the Philippines, 17 years ago. Ike was then 46, a lieutenant colonel on the Staff of General MacArthur. Lieutenants William L. Lee and Hugh A. Parker, both brigadier generals now, had been assigned to help build the Philippine constabularly air force, and they took over the responsibility of teaching Ike to fly.

As Ken Calkins reconstructs the story for Boeing magazine, Lieutenant Lee pointed to the Stearman one day in May, 1937 and told Ike to "get going." It was his first solo flight.

On his first attempt at a landing, Ike couldn't get the tail down. His instructors thought he was going to crash. But the second time he made it. When he taxied up and stopped, he explained, "I couldn't get the stick all the way back, for some reason."

A check-up showed that a bag of sand, put in the second seat of the plane to balance the weight, had slipped loose and blocked the controls.

Ike's second close call came on a flight with Lieutenant Parker at the controls, to test a new Wasp, Jr. engine. Just after the takeoff over some rice paddies, the engine quit cold. It looked like another crash. Parker switched to his reserve tank and put Colonel Eisenhower to work on a hand-operated emergency fuel pump. Fortunately, the engine caught and they landed safely. The trouble had been a stuck gas-gauge flow, giving a false fuel reading. The main tank had been almost empty.

The future President's third narrow escape came when Lieutenant Lee, after flying Colonel Eisenhower and his son John up to Baguio on a Sunday morning attempted to take off up hill, into a stiff wind. As General Lee recalls it now, he turned to Ike and said, "We ain't going to make it."

"He looked at me but didn't say anything," says Lee. "I was already committed and there wasn't a thing I could do but keep on trying. Just before we got to the hill, I hauled back on the wheel and—over the top we skimmed."

Federal Housekeepers

A woman career officer in the Department of State comes forward with the suggestion that what this much-criticized agency really needs is some more women around the place to do some first-class housekeeping. For her own protection, this woman can't be named. It's enough to say that she has been in and out of government jobs for 20 years and knows her way around.

"The trouble that the men get in around this department," she says, "is all due to the fact that they don't know how to keep house. They get all tied up in knots, shuffling papers around and installing complicated systems that only make homework more difficult. A good woman housekeeper could move in and clean up their mess in no time at all."

Homesick for Hunting

Though he has been on the job in Lisbon less than six months, U. S. Ambassador to Portugal Robert Guggenheim just had to come home for a month's vacation. He wanted to be at his South Carolina plantation for the shooting season — a sport he hasn't missed in many years.

State Department says the trip was not made at government expense. Traveling to the United States on the Italian liner Andrea Doria, Ambassador Guggenheim did spend three days in Washington for official consultation, during which he would be entitled to government subsistence expenses. The Ambassador's salary of course continues during the shooting season. There are no pressing problems in U. S.-Portuguese relations.

Learned His Homework

Tommy Austern, Washington counsel for the National Canner's Association, told this one at the organization's annual convention in Atlantic City:

"What President Eisenhower is now up against is perhaps best illustrated by the story of the schoolteacher who was questioning one of her farm boy students.

"She asked: 'Johnny, if a farmer has 5000 bushels of corn and corn is worth 40 cents a bushel, what will the farmer get?'

"Back came the answer like a flash: 'A government loan!'"

The Steeple That Saved a Life

The Angel's Spire. This steeple upon the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Reims, France — so called from the figure of an angel which formerly crowned the summit — was built by a man sentenced to death for treason. The man's name was Alberon. After he was convicted and sentenced to death, he asked as a last favor to be permitted to devote his fortune to the building of an additional steeple on the cathedral. His wish was granted and led to the donor's sentence being commuted.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

By MRS. WILLIAM JAY

Residents Relate Views on Vital Needs in School

New Paltz, Feb. 13—The proposed plan of the school board for an elementary wing and addition to the high school would result in better classrooms and work areas for branches of instruction like art, science, business, agriculture and music.

The construction would improve, or offer for the first time, a cafeteria, library, guidance room, health suite, special classroom and gymnasium facilities, fundamental parts of a modern school system.

Members of the Citizens Advisory Committee have been asking people in the district how they feel about the need for particular facilities or kinds of instruction.

Mrs. Ralph Buchanan considers music an important part of the school program.

"Participation in choral groups and orchestra is valuable as a healthy outlet for youthful energy and emotion. More important, it helps to develop poise and the ability to work with others," Mrs. Buchanan says.

"For the young child who is especialy gifted in music, the school has a responsibility in helping to develop that talent."

Raymond V. O. DuBois, farmer, particularly recognizes the value of courses in agriculture.

"An agricultural program is very good in a rural community such as New Paltz," DuBois says. "Some of the boys that have taken the agricultural course have gotten a lot out of it. I am all for a good agricultural program in the high school."

William Lohrman, former major league pitcher, feels that athletics are essential to young people.

Points to Athletics

"As commissioner of the Little Leaguers for the past two years and as a major league baseball player, I can safely say that athletics is a major body and character builder. We need strong healthy bodies and the sportsmanship that a good athletic program can give our youngsters."

Donald Allen, college science professor, is concerned with the country's need for good basic science instruction.

"The scientific achievements of this nation have played an important role in our emergence as a leading world power. The past decade has witnessed the growth of new multi-million dollar industries such as television and antibiotics which were previously almost non-existen."

"Our continued growth and economic well-being as a nation will be in no small degree conditioned by our assuring a continued flow of young people into scientific careers," Dr. Allen points out.

Must Stimulate Interest

"Our local school system must continue to do its share in providing this grass roots stimulation of interest in the basic sciences. The young people of New Paltz must be provided with modern and adequate science laboratory facilities such as are included in the plans for the proposed new school."

Harold Wood, banker, sees a continually growing need for business training in the high school.

"In this day and age, business training is a very valuable asset, particularly for those young people who will not go on to college and plan to join any kind of business firm. Typing has become popular, and practically necessary, for everyone, but every bit of training in this line is most helpful."

Jennie Lee Dann is especially interested in good library facilities.

"Not only as a librarian, but because of my interest in children, expansion of library facilities in our schools is close to my heart," Miss Dann says.

"All that can be done to lead young people to appreciation of good literature would seem to me to be a must for our school system."

Arthur Kurtz, fruit grower, thinks that the art department is an important part of the school plan.

"A well-equipped and staffed art department should have important consideration in the new school plan. Art is not something for just the talented few. Today, thousands of people in all walks of life are deriving pleasure and relaxation from drawing, painting or just daubing as a hobby," Kurtz says.

"Children should have the same opportunity and encouragement to learn to draw and paint as they now do to play a musical instrument—and for the same reasons."

Committees Named For Paltz Blind Sale

Mrs. Alvin Beatty is serving as general chairman of the New Paltz Sale.

The committees will serve as follows: Tuesday, Feb. 16, 10 a. m. to 2 p. m., Reformed, Mrs. Louis LeFevre, chairman; the Mmes. William Bracken, Ralph Buchanan, Jacob Elting, John Ashton, John Glancy, Estelle Gundrod, Charles Devo, Ralph Martin, Ernest Tamney, Irving C. Barnes, A. C. Grimm, Henry Poucher. From 2 to 5:30 p. m., Methodist, Mrs. Walter Dyer, chairman; the Mmes. Benjamin Rubin, Francis Sullivan, Clifford Van Valkenburgh, Alvin Beatty, Edward Morrison, Ellen Hungerford.

Wednesday, Feb. 17, 10 a. m. to 12 noon, Episcopal, Mrs. Robert Forshaw, chairman; the Mmes. Herman Ackert, Thomas Harris, Miss Petra Peterson, Ingrid Peterson. From 12 noon to 2 p. m., college faculty wives, Mrs. Nathan Stillman, chairman; the Mmes. Perry Baisler, James G. Cooper, Richard Klix, Harold Tannenbaum. From 2 to 5:30 p. m., St. Joseph's Catholic, Mrs. Frank Van Gansic, chairman; the Mmes. H. Follette, J. Lawler, A. Heckle, R. Gabrielli, G. Branigan.

New Paltz, Feb. 13—Donald Moore, veteran's counselor and service officer for Ulster county, will speak Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the American Legion Hall at 8 p. m. KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 13, 1954

PLAN FOR ORDERLY GROWTH

Erection of a multi-million dollar plant by International Business Machines Corporation in the Town of Ulster just north of Kingston appears to be the first step in the industrial growth of the immediate area. Undoubtedly other concerns will seek location here. The coming of I.B.M. is going to attract many new families to the area and Kingston and the outlying district are bound to grow. Kingston already has a zoning law but surrounding townships lack plans for an orderly growth and protection of homes already built.

The Town of Ulster, which surrounds the City of Kingston, is bound to experience a rapid growth when I.B.M. opens its plant here. Two years ago the Town of Ulster sought the advice of an expert from the New York State Department of Commerce relative to a planned community. A study was made at that time but to date the Town Board has taken no action toward appointment of a Planning Board which would make a study of the needs of the town and then submit to the people of the township a proposed plan or zoning regulation.

For the orderly growth of a community, a long range plan is necessary. To protect owners of homes already built and to assure future home owners of reasonable protection from encroachment by undesirable industry or business within a residence area, it is imperative that a Planning Commission be appointed in suburban areas to work out a plan for orderly growth of the community. A plant of the size which I.B.M. plans to erect in the Town of Ulster, with possible employment of 7,000, is bound to attract many new home owners to the area and unless a long range and controlled program for building is in force the future of the surrounding community, so far as desirability for residence purposes is concerned, may be in jeopardy. The people of this area owe it to I.B.M. to see that a high standard of residence desirability is maintained and that future home owners are assured of protection from undesirable construction in residence areas.

There was a time when a certain brand of coffee was advertised as "fit for a king." The way coffee prices are today it would take a king to afford it.

MISERY PROGRAMS

A great many radio and television programs depend for their audience appeal on exploiting human grief and misfortune. The formats of these programs are very much the same; unfortunate people come before the microphones or the television cameras and tell their story. They are then awarded with all sorts of prizes, ranging from money to clothing and home appliances. It may be questioned, however, whether what these people receive is a fair exchange for the privacy and dignity which they lose.

Recently New York City Welfare Commissioner Henry McCarthy asked one of these programs to quit luring needy people to New York in the hope of getting a chance to appear. He said that too many would-be contestants end up on the city's relief rolls. Such programs create the impression that "destitute people in the United States have no place to go—and this in the face of the most comprehensive Community chest and private and public welfare organizations in the world."

The Commissioner's stand is well taken. It is possible that many of these programs are well intentioned and in a small way do aid some needy people. But there is something insensitive and unworthy about bringing people who need help before the public eye to bare their souls in exchange for assistance. Programs which do this make the misery and agony of human beings something to amuse and entertain other human beings. This can be degrading for those who watch as well as for those who allow their sorrow to be traded upon.

When parents find that their little darlings have become big terrors they might best stop a moment and recall their own childhood.

'These Days'

THE SELF-EMPLOYED

A large element in the American population is self-employed. Grocers, butchers, musicians, writers, lecturers, doctors, lawyers, veterinarians, clergymen, manicurists—the list is long of Americans honorably engaged in numerous services and arts who manage their own affairs on a comparatively small scale.

This country was built by such self-employed citizens. Practically all of our great corporations are the product of their genius and success. Many of them remain small businessmen. Many of them continue to engage in efforts at smaller or larger fees. This, in some countries, is called the petite bourgeoisie, the lower middle-class, the economic and social backbone of any country.

Now such men and women have a partner, the Government of the United States. Naturally, they have to pay income taxes and have to keep books and records just like a large corporation. The cost of such records, by inexperienced people, involves lots of time, which is tough on self-employed people who cannot afford to work only 40 hours a week. There is no living in that. Many have to hire an accountant (also a self-employed person), who charges for his time.

The income tax is squeezing the self-employed person to the wall. But nothing is harder on him than to have a field man from the Internal Revenue Bureau show up two years later to challenge his judgment as to business deductions. The self-employed person, using small capital, often operating his business out of current earnings, needs as much elbow room, if he is to be successful, as a large corporation.

A very distinguished lady, whose name is known to most, very often lectures before large audiences. This is an excruciating business, often requiring many hours of travel. Each engagement is physically and mentally trying. Ofter it involves pleasant but exhausting social engagements which are essential to the business. (This is also true of concert artists who travel.) The lady arrives at the train very tired but she has a room on the train, a bedroom or a compartment or a drawing room, whichever is available. She requires a room often because she has to do some writing on the train.

Two years later, a field man showed up and questioned her judgment as to the use of drawing rooms, costing extra fares. She asked me about it and I told her that her judgment ought to prevail, that she was as much entitled to keep herself in shape for the next engagement, so that she looked fresh and spoke ably, as a cigarette company was entitled to spend money to advertise its wares.

Some traveling salesmen work on commission, being allowed a drawing account. An important element in their selling ability is a capacity for good-fellowship. That often comes to a considerable expenditure for entertainment.

Larger corporations can absorb these expenditures in their stride. The self-employed take it out of their income. In their record of deductions, such items stand out like sore thumbs, often seeming large for the volume of business they do, because a fellow figures that if he does not get the account this year, good-fellowship may bring it to him next year. It is as much an investment as buying shares in General Motors. Two years later, the field man shows up and insists on disallowing the entertainment costs. There is a prolonged argument in which neither side convinces the other.

I am not criticizing the field men nor even the Internal Revenue Bureau. The system needs revision if self-employed citizens are to continue to exist. Those who can afford to hire accountants are advised as to best procedure, but no one can really know because it becomes a matter of judgment, not of rule.

Meanwhile, savings become difficult and the self-employed person finds that he is setting nothing aside for a prolonged illness, for his wife and children, should he die. For ten months of the year, he hypnotizes himself into believing that he is doing well. On January 15, he makes his estimate and knows that he is in difficulties; on March 15, he is in trouble. The tax may leave him without sufficient working capital. He is reduced to the proletariat, to being a man who works for another.

This is a serious problem that requires serious attention. It is altering our social system.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

OVERWEIGHT AND THE AGING PROCESS

Now that there are more old men and women than any other one group in the population, research physicians are studying the problem of the aging process. One of their definite findings is that aging and high blood pressure are often found together and that when the lining of the blood vessels accumulates deposits of cholesterol (atherosclerosis) the blood pressure rises and the individual shows other evidences of aging. While a diet rich in fat has been considered by many to be the chief cause of fat deposits in the blood vessels, this has not really been proven as many men and women of middle age who live on a mixed, not a fat, diet may acccumulate these cholesterol deposits to the same extent as those who eat more fat.

In Geriatrics, Dr. Campbell Moses discusses various diets, various glands — thyroid, sex, adrenal and others. Thus ACTH, the secretion of the adrenal and pituitary glands, may alter the rate of development of experimental atherosclerosis.

It is generally conceded that the death rates among the very obese (50-to-100 pounds overweight) from heart and blood vessel (cardiovascular) disease are considerably higher than the rates of individuals of normal weight." Thus in Archives of Internal Medicine, Dr. S. L. Wilens reports that in a large series of necropsies (examinations of bodies after death) that in the coronary arteries (blood vessels feeding the heart muscle itself), almost twice as many of the poorly nourished groups, as the obese groups, have little or no atherosclerosis but other research workers found that obesity increased the percentage of cases with diabetes and hypertension.

Closely related to the problem of obesity and atherosclerosis is the heredity background of the individual as obesity and atherosclerosis are not always found together. "In view of the recognized psychologic and nerve and gland factors in causing high blood pressure and obesity, it should be emphasized that the interplay of emotional factors resulting in high blood pressure and/or obesity may provide the proper stimulus for the rapid concentration of the atherosclerotic process, that is, the emotions can cause atherosclerosis to develop quickly. Since it has been demonstrated that the atherosclerosis process may develop rapidly, it must be concluded that relatively brief acute episodes of sclerosis (hardening of blood vessels), whether induced emotionally or by some other epicodes, may cause the abrupt development of dangerous atherosclerosis conditions."

What do we learn from the above information about atherosclerosis, which is one cause of the aging process?

Two factors are of outstanding importance in the development of atherosclerosis: (1) the cholesterol (fat) in the circulating blood, and, (2) the stress and strain on the arteries carrying the blood.

While cutting down on fat does not seem to greatly decrease the tendency to atherosclerosis, nevertheless preventing obesity (gain in weight) should be a factor in delaying old age. We must never forget that "lean men live longer."

Rapidly Approaching a Fateful Decision

Edson's Washington News Notebook

Washington, (NEA) — Dwight D. Eisenhower would never have lived to become Supreme Commander in Europe nor President of the United States if he had not skimmed through three narrow escapes while learning to fly a Stearman trainer in the Philippines, 17 years ago. Ike was then 46, a lieutenant colonel on the Staff of General MacArthur. Lieutenants William L. Lee and Hugh A. Parker, both brigadier generals now, had been assigned to help build the Philippine constabularly air force, and they took over the responsibility of teaching Ike to fly.

As Ken Calkins reconstructs the story for Boeing magazine, Lieutenant Lee pointed to the Stearman one day in May, 1937 and told Ike to "get going." It was his first solo flight.

On his first attempt at a landing, Ike couldn't get the tail down, His instructors thought he was going to crash. But the second time he made it. When he taxied up and stopped, he explained, "I couldn't get the stick all the way back, for some reason."

A check-up showed that a bag of sand, put in the second seat of the plane to balance the weight, had slipped loose and blocked the controls.

Ike's second close call came on a flight with Lieutenant Parker at the controls, to test a new Wasp, Jr. engine. Just after the takeoff over some rice paddies, the engine quit cold. It looked like another crash. Parker switched to his reserve tank and put Colonel Eisenhower to work on a hand-operated emergency fuel pump. Fortunately, the engine caught and they landed safely. The trouble had been a stuck gas-gauge flow, giving a false fuel reading. The main tank had been almost empty.

The future President's third narrow escape came when Lieutenant Lee, after flying Colonel Eisenhower and his son John up to Baguio on a Sunday morning attempted to take off up hill, into a stiff wind. As General Lee recalls it now, he turned to Ike and said, "We ain't going to make it."

"He looked at me but didn't say anything," says Lee. "I was already committed and there wasn't a thing I could do but keep on trying. Just before we got to the hill, I hauled back on the wheel and—over the top we skimmed."

Federal Housekeepers

A woman career officer in the Department of State comes forward with the suggestion that what this much-criticized agency really needs is some more women around the place to do some first-class housekeeping. For her own protection, this woman can't be named. It's enough to say that she has been in and out of government jobs for 20 years and knows her way around.

"The trouble that the men get in around this department," she says, "is all due to the fact that they don't know how to keep house. They get all tied up in knots, shuffling papers around and installing complicated systems that only make homework more difficult. A good woman housekeeper could move in and clean up their mess in no time at all."

Homesick for Hunting

Though he has been on the job in Lisbon less than six months, U. S. Ambassador to Portugal Robert Guggenheim just had to come home for a month's vacation. He wanted to be at his South Carolina plantation for the shooting season — a sport he hasn't missed in many years.

State Department says the trip was not made at government expense. Traveling to the United States on the Italian liner Andrea Doria, Ambassador Guggenheim did spend three days in Washington for official consultation, during which he would be entitled to government subsistence expenses. The Ambassador's salary of course continues during the shooting season. There are no pressing problems in U. S.-Portuguese relations.

Learned His Homework

Tommy Austern, Washington counsel for the National Canner's Association, told this one at the organization's annual convention in Atlantic City:

"What President Eisenhower is now up against is perhaps best illustrated by the story of the schoolteacher who was questioning one of her farm boy students.

"She asked: 'Johnny, if a farmer has 5000 bushels of corn and corn is worth 40 cents a bushel, what will the farmer get?'

"Back came the answer like a flash: 'A government loan!'"

The Steeple That Saved a Life

The Angel's Spire. This steeple upon the Cathedral of Notre Dame in Reims, France — so called from the figure of an angel which formerly crowned the summit — was built by a man sentenced to death for treason. The man's name was Alberon. After he was convicted and sentenced to death, he asked as a last favor to be permitted to devote his fortune to the building of an additional steeple on the cathedral. His wish was granted and led to the donor's sentence being commuted.

NEW PALTZ NEWS

By MRS. WILLIAM JAY

Residents Relate Views on Vital Needs in School

New Paltz, Feb. 13—The proposed plan of the school board for an elementary wing and addition to the high school would result in better classrooms and work areas for branches of instruction like art, science, business, agriculture and music.

The construction would improve, or offer for the first time, a cafeteria, library, guidance room, health suite, special classroom and gymnasium facilities, fundamental parts of a modern school system.

Members of the Citizens Advisory Committee have been asking people in the district how they feel about the need for particular facilities or kinds of instruction.

Mrs. Ralph Buchanan considers music an important part of the school program.

"Participation in choral groups and orchestra is valuable as a healthy outlet for youthful energy and emotion. More important, it helps to develop poise and the ability to work with others," Mrs. Buchanan says.

"For the young child who is especialy gifted in music, the school has a responsibility in helping to develop that talent."

Raymond V. O. DuBois, farmer, particularly recognizes the value of courses in agriculture.

"An agricultural program is very good in a rural community such as New Paltz," DuBois says. "Some of the boys that have taken the agricultural course have gotten a lot out of it. I am all for a good agricultural program in the high school."

William Lohrman, former major league pitcher, feels that athletics are essential to young people.

Points to Athletics

"As commissioner of the Little Leaguers for the past two years and as a major league baseball player, I can safely say that athletics is a major body and character builder. We need strong healthy bodies and the sportsmanship that a good athletic program can give our youngsters."

Donald Allen, college science professor, is concerned with the country's need for good basic science instruction.

"The scientific achievements of this nation have played an important role in our emergence as a leading world power. The past decade has witnessed the growth of new multi-million dollar industries such as television and antibiotics which were previously almost non-existen."

"Our continued growth and economic well-being as a nation will be in no small degree conditioned by our assuring a continued flow of young people into scientific careers," Dr. Allen points out.

Must Stimulate Interest

"Our local school system must continue to do its share in providing this grass roots stimulation of interest in the basic sciences. The young people of New Paltz must be provided with modern and adequate science laboratory facilities such as are included in the plans for the proposed new school."

Harold Wood, banker, sees a continually growing need for business training in the high school.

"In this day and age, business training is a very valuable asset, particularly for those young people who will not go on to college and plan to join any kind of business firm. Typing has become popular, and practically necessary, for everyone, but every bit of training in this line is most helpful."

Jennie Lee Dann is especially interested in good library facilities.

"Not only as a librarian, but because of my interest in children, expansion of library facilities in our schools is close to my heart," Miss Dann says.

"All that can be done to lead young people to appreciation of good literature would seem to me to be a must for our school system."

Arthur Kurtz, fruit grower, thinks that the art department is an important part of the school plan.

"A well-equipped and staffed art department should have important consideration in the new school plan. Art is not something for just the talented few. Today, thousands of people in all walks of life are deriving pleasure and relaxation from drawing, painting or just daubing as a hobby," Kurtz says.

"Children should have the same opportunity and encouragement to learn to draw and paint as they now do to play a musical instrument—and for the same reasons."

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Cedar Grove Squad Will Answer Fires

Saugerties, Feb. 13—A friendly gesture from a neighboring fire company was disclosed at Thursday night's meeting of the newly-formed Malden-West Camp Fire Company. The meeting, which was held at the Malden District School, was informed by Albert J. Cawein, secretary of the company, that a communication had been received from the Cedar Grove Emergency Squad offering to answer all fire calls in the newly-formed district until such time when the new district can operate its own fire equipment.

Fred Linden, president of the Cedar Grove unit contacted Cawein and asked him to inform all members that the number to call in case of fire is the Malden-West Camp Fire District was Saugerties 1121. Linden also advised that the Malden-West Camp group appoint fire wardens who will be stationed at the main intersections of the district at the time an alarm is sounded. These fire wardens are to learn the location of the fire and then be at their posts. Any neighboring fire units answering a call in the district will immediately be directed to the fire by the warden when entering the district. This procedure will follow until the new district has secured their own equipment.

Arthur L. Smith, a committeeman investigating property offers reported that he was unable to contact his donor at this time. Cawein, another committeeman, reported that the John J. Helfert property was ready to be surveyed and then title to the property can be conveyed to the company.

The company voted to allow charter members four meetings in which to pay their initial dues which were effective Jan. 1, 1954.

A proposal was made from the floor to sign donors for blood to the VFW blood bank. Robert Herb, corresponding secretary of the company was appointed chairman of this committee to sign up donors.

At the close of the meeting Herb announced that six donors had signed to give blood at the blood bank scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 18. The donors are Jerry A. Smith, M. Lawrence Carroll, Stanley Carle, Charles Brown, Robert West and Mr. Herb.

Temporary Wardens

Jerry A. Smith, vice-president, who presided in the absence of Charles J. Graf, president, announced that the following had been appointed to serve as temporary fire wardens. West Camp, Oscar L. Schlenker and William Wrolsen; Evesport, Robert West, Edgar Smith Jr., and Carl Hesse Jr.; Malden west, Charles Teetsel, Richard Peetoom, Albert Cawein, and Leon Magee; Malden east, Joseph Stoly and James Maines.

A committee was designated to check the fire sirens in the district and see that they are in good working order. Mr. Carroll, in charge of the Fireman's Training Course committee announced that the next session of the training course would be held on Monday, Feb. 15 at 8 p. m., in the Malden District School. James M. Brett, assistant fire chief of Kingston, serves as instructor.

Lamb Is Appointed Zone Group Chairman

Saugerties, Feb. 13—Daniel N. Lamb, local attorney, was elected chairman of the newly-formed zoning investigating committee at the initial meeting of the group which was held at municipal building Thursday night.

Harold M. Kamp, local real estate agent, was elected as secretary which is the only other office voted upon. William Ziegler served as temporary chairman of the meeting which formed two committees. One to investigate the probable cost of the zoning ordinance and the other to contact other communities which have considered zoning. Louis P. Francello will head the committee which will investigate the costs and Rudolf P. Nelson will serve as chairman of the other.

Zeigler said that the group in general appeared to be in favor of zoning in the village if investigation proves that the cost would not be excessive and such a plan would be applicable. He further said that the consensus of the group felt that the April 1 deadline established for submitting a report did not give sufficient time to make a thorough study. The committee will most likely ask for an extension of time.

The committee was appointed Jan. 18 by Mayor George P. Holmes to study the zoning problem and report on their findings. The membership included Edward Reynolds, William F. Kelly, Lewis F. Fellows, Ben Greenspan, Charles Gippert, Mr. Kamp, Mr. Zeigler, Mr. Lamb, Mr. Francello, and Mr. Nelson.

Blood Bank Drawing Scheduled Feb. 18

Saugerties, Feb. 13—Mrs. Philip Breithaupt, Sr., chairman, announced that the VFW Blood Bank is making a general appeal to all the residents of the Town of Saugerties to give blood at the next drawing which is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 18, at the VFW Hall.

Mrs. Breithaupt disclosed that there is a serious shortage of blood in the laboratory at Kingston. The local Blood Bank has answered so many appeals for blood the past month that its credit has been exhausted.

Mrs. Breithaupt further said that a list of recipients would be made public from time to time and she hoped that this might encourage those receiving blood to send replacements.

Since this is a community service with no charge to anyone, the Ladies' Auxiliary VFW Post 5034 feels that in order to carry on this life saving-life giving service everyone who can should give blood.

Appeals have been sent out to previous donors but many more are needed. Those willing to give should contact the chairman before Feb. 16 by calling Saugerties 613-Ja fter 3 p. m., or Saugerties 718-J anytime and leave their name.

Advance information is necessary in order to prepare the committee and the laboratory for the number who will participate.

Grange Members Hold Party for Holidays

Saugerties, Feb. 13—The annual Lincoln-Valentine Day program was observed at Monday night's meeting of the Asbury Grange 1408. The program, which was held in the Asbury Grange Hall, included a literary hour which was presented by Mrs. Minnie June, Grange Lecturer. Mrs. Louise Saile opened the program with a poem entitled, The Blue and the Grey. Other events followed and hymns of Lincoln's day were sung by the members with Mrs. Jane Simon at the piano.

The program presented a humorous note when each Grange officer was presented with a Valentine individually dedicated to the particular office they held in the organization.

Mrs. June also conducted a forum on the care of baby chicks. The various chicken raisers participated and gave many hints on the proper care of broilers.

More Haymes Trouble

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes—who already has ex-wife alimony trouble, back-income tax headaches, and faces a government threat to deport him to his native Argentina—has added another "blue" note in the form of a landlord complaint over allegedly unpaid rent. The owner of a furnished house in Greenwich, Conn., claims Haymes and his actress wife, Rita Hayworth, owe him $675 back rent plus $5,000 damage he says was done to the luxurious, 14-room house. He did not specify the "damage." To enforce his demands the landlard, Joseph Kraeler, installed deputy sheriffs in the house to watch over the personal effects of Rita and Dick, who are not there but staying somewhere in Manhattan. But Miss Hayworth's two children by previous marriages still live in the house with a governess and a Boxer dog pet. The children are Yasmin, 3, whose father is Aly Khan, and Rebecca, 8, daughter of Rita and Orson Welles. And that's another story which involves the FBI and taking photos of the children.

Admits Using Name

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Customs officials said today an Israeli woman accused of smuggling more than $100,000 worth of diamonds into this country has admitted she traveled under the name of her identical twin sister. James Page, supervising customs agent in New York, said the woman who first game her name as Mrs. Esther Katz told two of his agents yesterday she really was Mrs. Ruth Hacohn, 28, mother of two children. He said she also told them that the four packages containing the diamonds found hidden in her clothing were given to her in Israel; not in London, as she had said before.

Cop Killed in Holdup

Union, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—A 13-state police alarm was out today for three men who killed a police sergeant in a $3,070 holdup at the Tuscan Dairy Farms yesterday. The sergeant was Clinton E. Bond, 37, a crack shot who was cited eight years ago for breaking up a delicatessen holdup. But yesterday Bond never had a chance to draw his gun. The three bandits, all Negroes, ripped Bond's gun from his holster as he lay dying from two bullet wounds, one in the hip and the other through both lungs. There were no witnesses to Bond's shooting, but he apparently was shot as he chased the trio in his patrol car.

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich.) wants President Eisenhower to fire Leonard W. Hall as Republican chairman on grounds that Hall is taking part in a "plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors." Soviet Plan . . .

of the Big Four in Berlin was set for midaftertoon tomorrow, again on Austria.

Press for Conclusion

Some Western diplomats said they expected another secret meeting on the Far Eastern situation to be held Monday and it may be that the ministers will have another go round on the problems of Germany and European security. Western delegations now are pressing for conclusion of the work here late next week.

The debate over Far Eastern problems, on which three secret sessions have now been held, began with Molotiv's insistance that the Big Four should be turned into a Big Five by the addition of China's Communist Government.

Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Georges Bidault told him they would not deal on specific subjects — particularly a Korean peace settlement and an end to the war in Indochina.

To compel Molotov to respond to the western ideas, the three presented him a specific plan that the Big Four—not the Big Five—should join in sponsoring a Korean conference as a first move toward settling the Indochina fighting. Geneva and April 15 were suggested as the place and time.

Informants said the place and time were not particularly important.

Adds Trieste Problem

Adamant before pleas from the west, Molotov declared yesterday Russian troops will remain in Austria until a German peace treaty is written. To this new condition, he added an old one—the troublesome Trieste problem also must be solved first.

Western delegations indicated clearly the conditions could not be accepted. They now see no chance for completion of the German peace treaty for years. And a Yugoslav-Italian squabble blocks efforts of Britain and the United States to pull their troops from Trieste, the strategic free territory at the head of the Adriatic.

In effect, Russia has thrown up a roadblock to Austria's independence that may stand for years. With Austria now added, Molotov's interlocking network of diplomatic snares for the west has grown appreciably in the first three weeks of a conference called to relax tensions.

Infighting . . .

Official Family Views

Among the speakers who conspicuously tempered their criticism yesterday were members of the President's official family and Sen. Ferguson (R.-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

Ferguson at the last minute discarded a prepared speech in which he charged that "New Dealers and Fair Dealers and left wingers . . . traded the lifeblood of American youth for a wartime economy . . . (and) promoted phony prosperity."

Instead, at a Republican dinner in Brooklyn, Ferguson extolled the accomplishments of the Republican Party since 1860.

Some other congressional Republicans were less restrained. Sen. Jenner (R.-Ind.) accused "Fair Dealers" of putting "every possible handicap" in the way of troops in Korea.

From various speakers came phrases like "disgraceful era of corruption" and "disloyal conduct of men in high places."

There were Democrats, too, who did not take the pounding as philosophically as did George. National Chairman Stephen Mitchell in Helena, Mont., accused the GOP of "a sinister campaign to plant in the mind of every person the dark suspicion that the Democratic Party is somehow the party of communism."

Cites Lincoln Era

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, said last night that perhaps "there is a lesson . . . for us today" in the intemperate way in which politics were conducted in Abraham Lincoln's time.

"The results were very sad indeed," Stevenson said in a CBS television interview, recalling that before the Civil War Lincoln had pleaded for moderation in political strife between regions.

A demand for the firing of GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall was made in the House yesterday by Rep. Rabaut (D.-Mich.). Rabaut said the chairman was taking part "in a plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors" in party attacks on the Democrats.

Hall made no Lincoln Day speech, only sending a message to a National Republican Club dinner in New York in which he predicted that "we can look forward together to the new Republican era springing from the notable achievements" of the Eisenhower Administration.

Rome, Feb. 13 (AP)—Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent asserted today that if the West "really wants peace we must be ready to undertake war to protect it." This the West must do, he added, "if aggression were declared against any of the nations taking part in the (NATO) organization."

Four Children Victims

A fire at Glasco on Thursday night about 9:40 p. m. resulted in the death of four children of Mrs. Anna Mitchell. The youngsters were asleep in the bedroom when the fire started, apparently from a kerosene heater, state police reported. Robert Eugene Mitchell, 3, was found dead at the scene. His sisters, Dorothy Ann, 5, and Linda Marie, 2, died at the Benedictine Hospital during the early morning hours, and a brother, Richard, Jr., 4, died at the hospital at 1 p. m., Friday.

Asks Report on Warren

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Chairman Langer (R.-N. D.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee was reported today to have asked the Justice Department for an FBI report on Chief Justice Earl Warren, whose nomination to the highest U. S. judicial post is now before the committee. Warren's confirmation is taken for granted. The question of obtaining an FBI report on him is one of procedure. A Justice Department spokesman when asked if such a request had been received, said he couldn't comment. Langer is away, but other sources left no doubt about the correctness of the report.

SAUGERTIES NEWS

Cedar Grove Squad Will Answer Fires

Saugerties, Feb. 13—A friendly gesture from a neighboring fire company was disclosed at Thursday night's meeting of the newly-formed Malden-West Camp Fire Company. The meeting, which was held at the Malden District School, was informed by Albert J. Cawein, secretary of the company, that a communication had been received from the Cedar Grove Emergency Squad offering to answer all fire calls in the newly-formed district until such time when the new district can operate its own fire equipment.

Fred Linden, president of the Cedar Grove unit contacted Cawein and asked him to inform all members that the number to call in case of fire is the Malden-West Camp Fire District was Saugerties 1121. Linden also advised that the Malden-West Camp group appoint fire wardens who will be stationed at the main intersections of the district at the time an alarm is sounded. These fire wardens are to learn the location of the fire and then be at their posts. Any neighboring fire units answering a call in the district will immediately be directed to the fire by the warden when entering the district. This procedure will follow until the new district has secured their own equipment.

Arthur L. Smith, a committeeman investigating property offers reported that he was unable to contact his donor at this time. Cawein, another committeeman, reported that the John J. Helfert property was ready to be surveyed and then title to the property can be conveyed to the company.

The company voted to allow charter members four meetings in which to pay their initial dues which were effective Jan. 1, 1954.

A proposal was made from the floor to sign donors for blood to the VFW blood bank. Robert Herb, corresponding secretary of the company was appointed chairman of this committee to sign up donors.

At the close of the meeting Herb announced that six donors had signed to give blood at the blood bank scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 18. The donors are Jerry A. Smith, M. Lawrence Carroll, Stanley Carle, Charles Brown, Robert West and Mr. Herb.

Temporary Wardens

Jerry A. Smith, vice-president, who presided in the absence of Charles J. Graf, president, announced that the following had been appointed to serve as temporary fire wardens. West Camp, Oscar L. Schlenker and William Wrolsen; Evesport, Robert West, Edgar Smith Jr., and Carl Hesse Jr.; Malden west, Charles Teetsel, Richard Peetoom, Albert Cawein, and Leon Magee; Malden east, Joseph Stoly and James Maines.

A committee was designated to check the fire sirens in the district and see that they are in good working order. Mr. Carroll, in charge of the Fireman's Training Course committee announced that the next session of the training course would be held on Monday, Feb. 15 at 8 p. m., in the Malden District School. James M. Brett, assistant fire chief of Kingston, serves as instructor.

Lamb Is Appointed Zone Group Chairman

Saugerties, Feb. 13—Daniel N. Lamb, local attorney, was elected chairman of the newly-formed zoning investigating committee at the initial meeting of the group which was held at municipal building Thursday night.

Harold M. Kamp, local real estate agent, was elected as secretary which is the only other office voted upon. William Ziegler served as temporary chairman of the meeting which formed two committees. One to investigate the probable cost of the zoning ordinance and the other to contact other communities which have considered zoning. Louis P. Francello will head the committee which will investigate the costs and Rudolf P. Nelson will serve as chairman of the other.

Zeigler said that the group in general appeared to be in favor of zoning in the village if investigation proves that the cost would not be excessive and such a plan would be applicable. He further said that the consensus of the group felt that the April 1 deadline established for submitting a report did not give sufficient time to make a thorough study. The committee will most likely ask for an extension of time.

The committee was appointed Jan. 18 by Mayor George P. Holmes to study the zoning problem and report on their findings. The membership included Edward Reynolds, William F. Kelly, Lewis F. Fellows, Ben Greenspan, Charles Gippert, Mr. Kamp, Mr. Zeigler, Mr. Lamb, Mr. Francello, and Mr. Nelson.

Blood Bank Drawing Scheduled Feb. 18

Saugerties, Feb. 13—Mrs. Philip Breithaupt, Sr., chairman, announced that the VFW Blood Bank is making a general appeal to all the residents of the Town of Saugerties to give blood at the next drawing which is scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 18, at the VFW Hall.

Mrs. Breithaupt disclosed that there is a serious shortage of blood in the laboratory at Kingston. The local Blood Bank has answered so many appeals for blood the past month that its credit has been exhausted.

Mrs. Breithaupt further said that a list of recipients would be made public from time to time and she hoped that this might encourage those receiving blood to send replacements.

Since this is a community service with no charge to anyone, the Ladies' Auxiliary VFW Post 5034 feels that in order to carry on this life saving-life giving service everyone who can should give blood.

Appeals have been sent out to previous donors but many more are needed. Those willing to give should contact the chairman before Feb. 16 by calling Saugerties 613-Ja fter 3 p. m., or Saugerties 718-J anytime and leave their name.

Advance information is necessary in order to prepare the committee and the laboratory for the number who will participate.

Grange Members Hold Party for Holidays

Saugerties, Feb. 13—The annual Lincoln-Valentine Day program was observed at Monday night's meeting of the Asbury Grange 1408. The program, which was held in the Asbury Grange Hall, included a literary hour which was presented by Mrs. Minnie June, Grange Lecturer. Mrs. Louise Saile opened the program with a poem entitled, The Blue and the Grey. Other events followed and hymns of Lincoln's day were sung by the members with Mrs. Jane Simon at the piano.

The program presented a humorous note when each Grange officer was presented with a Valentine individually dedicated to the particular office they held in the organization.

Mrs. June also conducted a forum on the care of baby chicks. The various chicken raisers participated and gave many hints on the proper care of broilers.

More Haymes Trouble

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Crooner Dick Haymes—who already has ex-wife alimony trouble, back-income tax headaches, and faces a government threat to deport him to his native Argentina—has added another "blue" note in the form of a landlord complaint over allegedly unpaid rent. The owner of a furnished house in Greenwich, Conn., claims Haymes and his actress wife, Rita Hayworth, owe him $675 back rent plus $5,000 damage he says was done to the luxurious, 14-room house. He did not specify the "damage." To enforce his demands the landlard, Joseph Kraeler, installed deputy sheriffs in the house to watch over the personal effects of Rita and Dick, who are not there but staying somewhere in Manhattan. But Miss Hayworth's two children by previous marriages still live in the house with a governess and a Boxer dog pet. The children are Yasmin, 3, whose father is Aly Khan, and Rebecca, 8, daughter of Rita and Orson Welles. And that's another story which involves the FBI and taking photos of the children.

Admits Using Name

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Customs officials said today an Israeli woman accused of smuggling more than $100,000 worth of diamonds into this country has admitted she traveled under the name of her identical twin sister. James Page, supervising customs agent in New York, said the woman who first game her name as Mrs. Esther Katz told two of his agents yesterday she really was Mrs. Ruth Hacohn, 28, mother of two children. He said she also told them that the four packages containing the diamonds found hidden in her clothing were given to her in Israel; not in London, as she had said before.

Cop Killed in Holdup

Union, N. J., Feb. 13 (AP)—A 13-state police alarm was out today for three men who killed a police sergeant in a $3,070 holdup at the Tuscan Dairy Farms yesterday. The sergeant was Clinton E. Bond, 37, a crack shot who was cited eight years ago for breaking up a delicatessen holdup. But yesterday Bond never had a chance to draw his gun. The three bandits, all Negroes, ripped Bond's gun from his holster as he lay dying from two bullet wounds, one in the hip and the other through both lungs. There were no witnesses to Bond's shooting, but he apparently was shot as he chased the trio in his patrol car.

Would Fire Hall

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich.) wants President Eisenhower to fire Leonard W. Hall as Republican chairman on grounds that Hall is taking part in a "plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors." Rabaut told the House yesterday that the head of the GOP National Committee has sponsored a "vitriolic campaign of Republican oratory" despite the President's recent statement deploring extreme partisanship.

Soviet Plan . . .

of the Big Four in Berlin was set for midaftertoon tomorrow, again on Austria.

Press for Conclusion

Some Western diplomats said they expected another secret meeting on the Far Eastern situation to be held Monday and it may be that the ministers will have another go round on the problems of Germany and European security. Western delegations now are pressing for conclusion of the work here late next week.

The debate over Far Eastern problems, on which three secret sessions have now been held, began with Molotiv's insistance that the Big Four should be turned into a Big Five by the addition of China's Communist Government.

Secretary of State Dulles, Britain's Anthony Eden and France's Georges Bidault told him they would not deal on specific subjects — particularly a Korean peace settlement and an end to the war in Indochina.

To compel Molotov to respond to the western ideas, the three presented him a specific plan that the Big Four—not the Big Five—should join in sponsoring a Korean conference as a first move toward settling the Indochina fighting. Geneva and April 15 were suggested as the place and time.

Informants said the place and time were not particularly important.

Adds Trieste Problem

Adamant before pleas from the west, Molotov declared yesterday Russian troops will remain in Austria until a German peace treaty is written. To this new condition, he added an old one—the troublesome Trieste problem also must be solved first.

Western delegations indicated clearly the conditions could not be accepted. They now see no chance for completion of the German peace treaty for years. And a Yugoslav-Italian squabble blocks efforts of Britain and the United States to pull their troops from Trieste, the strategic free territory at the head of the Adriatic.

In effect, Russia has thrown up a roadblock to Austria's independence that may stand for years. With Austria now added, Molotov's interlocking network of diplomatic snares for the west has grown appreciably in the first three weeks of a conference called to relax tensions.

Infighting . . .

extreme partisan utterances.

Official Family Views

Among the speakers who conspicuously tempered their criticism yesterday were members of the President's official family and Sen. Ferguson (R.-Mich.), chairman of the Senate Republican policy committee.

Ferguson at the last minute discarded a prepared speech in which he charged that "New Dealers and Fair Dealers and left wingers . . . traded the lifeblood of American youth for a wartime economy . . . (and) promoted phony prosperity."

Instead, at a Republican dinner in Brooklyn, Ferguson extolled the accomplishments of the Republican Party since 1860.

Some other congressional Republicans were less restrained. Sen. Jenner (R.-Ind.) accused "Fair Dealers" of putting "every possible handicap" in the way of troops in Korea.

From various speakers came phrases like "disgraceful era of corruption" and "disloyal conduct of men in high places."

There were Democrats, too, who did not take the pounding as philosophically as did George. National Chairman Stephen Mitchell in Helena, Mont., accused the GOP of "a sinister campaign to plant in the mind of every person the dark suspicion that the Democratic Party is somehow the party of communism."

Cites Lincoln Era

Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, said last night that perhaps "there is a lesson . . . for us today" in the intemperate way in which politics were conducted in Abraham Lincoln's time.

"The results were very sad indeed," Stevenson said in a CBS television interview, recalling that before the Civil War Lincoln had pleaded for moderation in political strife between regions.

A demand for the firing of GOP Chairman Leonard W. Hall was made in the House yesterday by Rep. Rabaut (D.-Mich.). Rabaut said the chairman was taking part "in a plot to brand millions of Americans as traitors" in party attacks on the Democrats.

Hall made no Lincoln Day speech, only sending a message to a National Republican Club dinner in New York in which he predicted that "we can look forward together to the new Republican era springing from the notable achievements" of the Eisenhower Administration.

Four Children Victims

A fire at Glasco on Thursday night about 9:40 p. m. resulted in the death of four children of Mrs. Anna Mitchell. The youngsters were asleep in the bedroom when the fire started, apparently from a kerosene heater, state police reported. Robert Eugene Mitchell, 3, was found dead at the scene. His sisters, Dorothy Ann, 5, and Linda Marie, 2, died at the Benedictine Hospital during the early morning hours, and a brother, Richard, Jr., 4, died at the hospital at 1 p. m., Friday.

Asks Report on Warren

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Chairman Langer (R.-N. D.) of the Senate Judiciary Committee was reported today to have asked the Justice Department for an FBI report on Chief Justice Earl Warren, whose nomination to the highest U. S. judicial post is now before the committee. Warren's confirmation is taken for granted. The question of obtaining an FBI report on him is one of procedure. A Justice Department spokesman when asked if such a request had been received, said he couldn't comment. Langer is away, but other sources left no doubt about the correctness of the report.

Hobby Y'se: No. 1 in Series: Knitting

MISS MARCIA CLARK

By MARIANNE DAVIS
Freeman Society Editor

"There's nothing like knitting for relaxation," says Miss Marcia Clark of 41 Downs street, somewhat of an authority on the subject, who is teaching the art to students in the hobby class at the YWCA.

Having become familiar with the intricacies of needlepoint, crocheting, and knitting in grade school days, Marcia learned the fundamentals of each work from her mother, then carried on from there.

"I don't pretend to be a professional knitter," said the energetic Marcia, "but I do get fun out of it, and like to share the pleasure with others. Since I can read and interpret the instructions for knitting, I like to teach others how simple it is." Any novice "knitter" who has tried to break the code of K1,P2 in the more complicated forms knows that Marcia's help is invaluable.

Beginners Knit Small Pieces

She firmly believes that "If you can read instructions, knit and pearl, you can make anything in knitwear." Which really just about covers the entire problem. She starts beginning knitting students on simple small garments, baby sweaters, mittens, and small scarves. Knowing that half the fun is seeing a finished product soon as possible, she discourages the making of stoles and large pieces until the student is more advanced.

Marcia tells of one beginning student who finished a sweater in the six-week fall term at the Y, then went on to make another for a baby-shower gift at Christmas. Encouraging news for women who like their gifts to have a "personal touch." She is one teacher who wants every student to enjoy her work, find it relaxing, and have a free choice of what she would like to knit. The spring class at the Y has been in progress for over three weeks, with the clicking of needles heard every Tuesday at 7:30 p. m.

Has Position as Bacteriologist

During the day, Marcia works concentratedly at the City Laboratory as bacteriologist, a demanding position. Peering into a microscope, dressed in a fresh white uniform, she does the bacteriological culture work for Ulster county including the preparation of nutrient material for the bacteria, and the staggering amount of clerical work involved.

Trained for this work in a two-year course in public health laboratory technique at the New York State Laboratory in Albany, Marcia was employed at the laboratory for four years before coming to Kingston in 1942. Except for a brief period in 1943 at the Genesse County Laboratory in Batavia, she has been in the office on the hill since 1942.

Knows Grandma Moses

Knowing that human life depends on the reports from the Lab and that epidemics may be caught before they can spread, she didn't mind being on 24-hour call one day a week, on a former schedule of work. And proudly states that a 24-hour service is constantly maintained for blood counts and transfusions at the laboratory of which Dr. Herbert Derman is director.

Hailing from Eagle Bridge, Marcia reminds people that it is the hometown of famous Grandma Moses, whom she knows personally. Marcia is proud of an original "Moses" which she owns, and of a new Plymouth car, a recent acquisition. Besides knitting for relaxation, she belongs to two bowling leagues, the Women's League and the Mixed League; is an appointed officer of Clinton Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star; vice president of the Board of Directors, member of Business and Professional Women's Club, chairman of the Young Adult Committee, and the Public Affairs Committee of the YWCA.

She also finds time to be organizations editor of the newspaper of the First Dutch Church, Old Dutch Chatter, and visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Clark, at least once a month.

Hopes to Complete Tablecloth

The busy instructor has just finished a unique knitted bedspread for an antique four-poster bed, has hand-knitted coats, dresses and sweaters in her wardrobe. She is making a real effort to complete a tablecloth but finds the supply is depleted since the pieces make wonderful doilies and consequently, welcome shower gifts. But every Tuesday evening is given to teaching others how to fill in leisure hours with a worthwhile relaxing hobby. The tablecloth will have to wait.

THANKS UNDESERVED

A reader asks me to help her out of a very embarrassing situation which she explains as follows: "I have just received a note from a friend thanking me for an anniversary present I am supposed to have sent to her. Evidently the name on the card enclosed with it was very similar to mine and she took it for granted that it was from me. It makes it all the more embarrassing because she goes on to say that I am always so thoughtful, and that it was wonderful of me to remember her anniversary. What do I do now?"

Write to her and say that you are more than sorry that you don't deserve her thanks but that much as you wish the present had been from you, you have to confess it was not.

Rooms for Tourists

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like to know what is proper in the following situation: When stopping for the night at a house that advertises rooms for tourists, may an inquiring traveler walk right in without ringing the doorbell?

Answer: After you have taken a room in the house, you, of course, go in and out without ringing the bell, provided the door is kept unlocked. But before this, you must ring the bell and wait for someone to answer the door. Aside from this being the polite way to behave, you would probably find yourself in an empty hall with no way to attract anyone's attention.

Bride's Mother a Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is a doctor (M.D.). I would like to know about my wedding invitations and announcements. Should her name appear as Dr. or Mrs.?

Answer: If she is a practicing physician and known to everyone as Dr. Smith, then you father's and her name together must be engraved as Mr. Henry and Dr. Mabel Smith. If she has given up her practice or if she has always been known socially as Mrs. Henry, then this is the way her name should appear on the invitations and announcements.

How should the young man of a small wedding party be dressed?

Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-8 describes small weddings. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

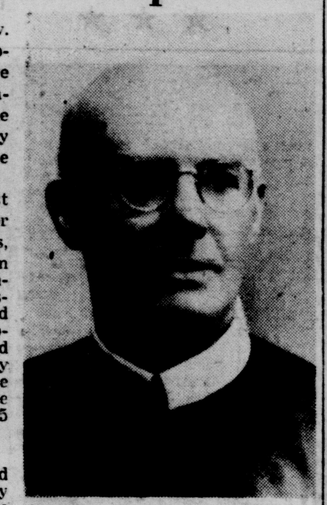
American Is Elected Superior General of Redemptorists



REV. W. P. GANDREAU

On February 6, the Very Rev. William P. Gaudreau, C.Ss.R. provincial consultor of the Baltimore Province, was elected rector major and superior general of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, usually known as the Redemptorists.

Father Gaudreau is the first American to be elected Superior General of the Redemptorists, who were founded in the Kingdom of Naples in 1732 by St. Alphonsus Liguori. Since then this missionary Congregation has spread all over the world, its first pioneers coming to the United States in 1832. In this country the Redemptorists now have three Provinces, with 79 houses and five Vice-Provinces with a total of 35 houses.

Served as Missionary

The new Father General had been stationed in New York city as Provincial Consultor since 1950. Previous to that he had been for 13 years a missionary and Vice-Provincial Superior of American Redemptorists working in Brazil and Paraguay, South America. From 1930 to 1937 he had been stationed at the Mission Church in Boston, Mass., and had preached missions in French and English throughout New England.

Born in South Braintree, Mass., September 24, 1897, Father Gaudreau worked for some years as a surveyor on the New Haven Railroad. He made his preparatory studies for the priesthood at the Redemptorists College at North East, Pa., and pronounced his vows as a Redemptorist in the novitiate at Ilchester, Md., on August 2, 1922.

Started at Esopus

His seminary training was begun at the Redemptorist House of Studies at Esopus, where he was ordained on June 19, 1927. He completed his studies in the Redemptorist studendate at Attert in Belgium, and made his second novitiate at the Redemptorist Juvenate at Uvrier in Switzerland. He preached French missions in Europe for a year before returning to the United States.

Father Gaudreau as Superior General of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer will have jurisdiction over 27 Provinces and 35 Vice-Provinces of the Order, whose members numbered 8,129 in 1953.

Father Gaudreau has a twin sister, who is a religious, Sr. M. Bernadetta, Superior of the Franciscan Sisters at Lakeland, Fla., and a cousin who is a Redemptorist missionary at St. Alphonsus Church, New York city. A brother of the Redemptorist General, Victor Gaudreau, is a successful architect in Baltimore, Md.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

There is nothing more interesting to me than an old local newspaper. I opened a Kingston Freeman and Journal of Tuesday, May 8, 1923, and saw the following item in society news on front page: "Mr. and Mrs. John Janikas have returned from their honeymoon trip spent in New York city and other points of interest and are residing at 31 East Strand where a newly furnished home awaited them."

Another item reads: "First plate glass on Wall street." It seems C. H. Safford of Safford and Scudder was removing three large plate glass windows from the Wall street building. The windows were imported from France in 1870 and after 53 years of service, "three of the original windows remain. The fourth window in the Dedrick Drug Store is not one of the original imported windows. This window was twice broken and was replaced with local glass. One time the window was broken by heat from the Walker fire across the street which destroyed the buildings from Forsyth and Davis to the corner. The second time the window was broken by the slam of the door. The original French glass was installed by Mickens and Haulenbeek. The removal of the windows in May of 1923 was for the purpose of remodeling the two stores."

Several times I have asked readers of this column if they knew how and when chickens and cats came over to this country. In Plymouth Adventure, a technicolor with Spencer Tracy, Gene Tierney, Van Johnson and others, brought out historical items otherwise unknown to the general public. One of the things which interested me was the chicken coop which the colonists had in their outdoor garden. They did show a dog on the boat, but I did not see him on land afterwards.

I am partial to cats and feel that cats do a service to the human race by hunting rats and mice. There is an interesting article in the February, 1954, Cats Magazine in which is shown a painting of Fur Traders Descending the Missouri, by George Caleb Bingham (1811-1879). He was one of the most popular of American artists of his day, studying at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts then spending his adult life in Missouri and because of his paintings history was made richer as he was a very exacting painter. The picture shows what looks like a long canoe with two people in it, and right in front sits Miss Pussycat very quietly looing at the water. She is tied and looks as though she wears a bell. The author of the article, James H. Turner, writes: "I learned from this picture and from data I looked up after seeing it, that the cat played a far greater role in the development of our country than I had even dreamed."

He further went on: "Supplies on the frontier were precious. They were obtained and transported at a great cost of time, money and often life. Wherever they were stored, rats and mice gathered with appalling results. Furs, the common currency of the day, suffered especially. Food, clothing and equipment of all kinds were in constant danger. Rodent destruction of grain for horses at times actually limited the number of animals that could be used. Old records prove that such instances as one enterprising freighter bought cats in town at 25 cents each and sold them in Deadwood, S. D., then a mining camp, at prices ranging from $10 to $25 each for just plain alley cats. The cat was welcomed in those days, in the rivermen barges, in the oxcarts and the covered wagons. The cats had a big part in the building of America from the Wilderness Road to the Sante Fe and Oregon Trails."

Six Die in Collision As Auto, Streetcar Crash

Los Angeles, Feb. 13 (AP)—Six persons were killed early today when their automobile and a streetcar collided.

The victims were all Negroes—three women and three men—and their identities were not immediately learned. Firemen had to work for more than an hour to extricate the mangled bodies from the wreckage.

The force of the impact hurled the Los Angeles Transit Lines car off the tracks and nearly to the street curb. Sixteen passengers on the streetcar were shaken up but none was seriously injured.

Motorman Sterling W. Henderson, 30, told police: "The car was following another automobile and suddenly cut out across the double line in front of the streetcar." He estimated the automobile was traveling in excess of 45 miles an hour.

The polar bear is an exceedingly strong swimmer, having been known to cross a strait 40 miles wide.

Answer: After you have taken a room in the house, you, of course, go in and out without ringing the bell, provided the door is kept unlocked. But before this, you must ring the bell and wait for someone to answer the door. Aside from this being the polite way to behave, you would probably find yourself in an empty hall with no way to attract anyone's attention.

Bride's Mother a Doctor

Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is a doctor (M.D.). I would like to know about my wedding invitations and announcements. Should her name appear as Dr. or Mrs.?

Answer: If she is a practicing physician and known to everyone as Dr. Smith, then you father's and her name together must be engraved as Mr. Henry and Dr. Mabel Smith. If she has given up her practice or if she has always been known socially as Mrs. Henry, then this is the way her name should appear on the invitations and announcements.

How should the young man of a small wedding party be dressed? Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. Her leaflet E-8 describes small weddings. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coir to Dept. EP, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

American Is Elected Superior General of Redemptorists

On February 6, the Very Rev. William P. Gaudreau, C.Ss.R. provincial consultor of the Baltimore Province, was elected rector major and superior general of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer, usually known as the Redemptorists.

Father Gaudreau is the first American to be elected Superior General of the Redemptorists, who were founded in the Kingdom of Naples in 1732 by St. Alphonsus Liguori. Since then this missionary Congregation has spread all over the world, its first pioneers coming to the United States in 1832. In this country the Redemptorists now have three Provinces with 79 houses and five Vice-Provinces with a total of 35 houses.

Served as Missionary

The new Father General had been stationed in New York city as Provincial Consultor since 1950. Previous to that he had been for 13 years a missionary and Vice-Provincial Superior of American Redemptorists working in Brazil and Paraguay, South America. From 1930 to 1937 he had been stationed at the Mission Church in Boston, Mass., and had preached missions in French and English throughout New England.

Born in South Braintree, Mass., September 24, 1897, Father Gaudreau worked for some years as a surveyor on the New Haven Railroad. He made his preparatory studies for the priesthood at the Redemptorists College at North East, Pa., and pronounced his vows as a Redemptorist in the novitiate at Ilchester, Md., on August 2, 1922.

Started at Esopus

His seminary training was begun at the Redemptorist House of Studies at Esopus, where he was ordained on June 19, 1927. He completed his studies in the Redemptorist studendate at Attert in Belgium, and made his second novitiate at the Redemptorist Juvenate at Uvrier in Switzerland. He preached French missions in Europe for a year before returning to the United States.

Father Gaudreau as Superior General of the Congregation of the Most Holy Redeemer will have jurisdiction over 27 Provinces and 35 Vice-Provinces of the Order, whose members numbered 8,129 in 1953.

Father Gaudreau has a twin sister, who is a religious, Sr. M. Bernadetta, Superior of the Franciscan Sisters at Lakeland, Fla., and a cousin who is a Redemptorist missionary at St. Alphonsus Church, New York city. A brother of the Redemptorist General, Victor Gaudreau, is a successful architect in Baltimore, Md.

Do You Remember

By SOPHIE MILLER

There is nothing more interesting to me than an old local newspaper. I opened a Kingston Freeman and Journal of Tuesday, May 8, 1923, and saw the following item in society news on front page: "Mr. and Mrs. John Janikas have returned from their honeymoon trip spent in New York city and other points of interest and are residing at 31 East Strand where a newly furnished home awaited them."

Another item reads: "First plate glass on Wall street." It seems C. H. Safford of Safford and Scudder was removing three large plate glass windows from the Wall street building. The windows were imported from France in 1870 and after 53 years of service, "three of the original windows remain. The fourth window in the Dedrick Drug Store is not one of the original imported windows. This window was twice broken and was replaced with local glass. One time the window was broken by heat from the Walker fire across the street which destroyed the buildings from Forsyth and Davis to the corner. The second time the window was broken by the slam of the door. The original French glass was installed by Mickens and Haulenbeek. The removal of the windows in May of 1923 was for the purpose of remodeling the two stores."

Several times I have asked readers of this column if they knew how and when chickens and cats came over to this country. In Plymouth Adventure, a technicolor with Spencer Tracy, Gene Tierney, Van Johnson and others, brought out historical items otherwise unknown to the general public. One of the things which interested me was the chicken coop which the colonists had in their outdoor garden. They did show a dog on the boat, but I did not see him on land afterwards.

I am partial to cats and feel that cats do a service to the human race by hunting rats and mice. There is an interesting article in the February, 1954, Cats Magazine in which is shown a painting of Fur Traders Descending the Missouri, by George Caleb Bingham (1811-1879). He was one of the most popular of American artists of his day, studying at the Pennsylvania Academy of Fine Arts then spending his adult life in Missouri and because of his paintings history was made richer as he was a very exacting painter. The picture shows what looks like a long canoe with two people in it, and right in front sits Miss Pussycat very quietly looing at the water. She is tied and looks as though she wears a bell. The author of the article, James H. Turner, writes: "I learned from this picture and from data I looked up after seeing it, that the cat played a far greater role in the development of our country than I had even dreamed."

He further went on: "Supplies on the frontier were precious. They were obtained and transported at a great cost of time, money and often life. Wherever they were stored, rats and mice gathered with appalling results. Furs, the common currency of the day, suffered especially. Food, clothing and equipment of all kinds were in constant danger. Rodent destruction of grain for horses at times actually limited the number of animals that could be used. Old records prove that such instances as one enterprising freighter bought cats in town at 25 cents each and sold them in Deadwood, S. D., then a mining camp, at prices ranging from $10 to $25 each for just plain alley cats. The cat was welcomed in those days, in the rivermen barges, in the oxcarts and the covered wagons. The cats had a big part in the building of America from the Wilderness Road to the Sante Fe and Oregon Trails."

Six Die in Collision As Auto, Streetcar Crash

Los Angeles, Feb. 13 (AP)—Six persons were killed early today when their automobile and a streetcar collided.

The victims were all Negroes—three women and three men—and their identities were not immediately learned. Firemen had to work for more than an hour to extricate the mangled bodies from the wreckage.

The force of the impact hurled the Los Angeles Transit Lines car off the tracks and nearly to the street curb. Sixteen passengers on the streetcar were shaken up but none was seriously injured.

Motorman Sterling W. Henderson, 30, told police: "The car was following another automobile and suddenly cut out across the double line in front of the streetcar." He estimated the automobile was traveling in excess of 45 miles an hour.

The polar bear is an exceedingly strong swimmer, having been known to cross a strait 40 miles wide.

The young generation got a taste of "old time" basketball at the Kate Walton field house last night. And they didn't like what they saw. At least, not the first half.

They saw a smartly-coached Middletown High school squad employ the old "possession basketball" gimmick in an effort to harrass Kingston High and draw the Maroons into excessive fouling. They used collapsing defenses and everything designed to throw the game back into the Neanderthal period of the standing guard, figure-8 passing and the set shot from the outside.

Well, sir, for at least one half they made Kingston High look mighty bad. The Maroon partisans booed and stamped but the Middies clung tenaciously to their freezing and stalling tactics.

Kingston had to battle mightily for an 11-10 lead at the quarter and 22-17 at the half, the lowest halftime score since the center tap was eliminated and the fast break installed in basketball.

But Coach Bob Markes, who had luxuriated in Kingston's uncomfortable plight in the first half, saw his dream of an upset blow up in his face. When it was all over he gathered his flock around him in the dressing room and said: "Boys, we gave it a good try. We sure made them look uncomfortable in that first half."

If the suspense is killing you, let's hasten to reveal that Kingston eventually captured the victory by the ridiculous margin of 63 to 29. But the final score will never tell the real story. So KHS stays unbeaten, with 12 straight in the DUSO conference.

A couple of intercepted passes started the Maroon juggernaut rolling in the third period. And there was old "Mr. Clutch" himself—John Godwin—right in the middle of the Kingston rally that demolished the game but outclassed Middies.

Godwin poured six shots through the hoop. Skip Brodhead scored eight points and Bob Maines rimmed four as Kingston ran off 12 consecutive points to widen a 22-17 lead to 34-17 and blow the game wide open.

Bezemer started as briskly as usual with seven points in the first and second periods. He finished with 19 points for high score honors. Godwin had 17 and Brodhead 15. Bob Maines hooped eight and looked like a man who could be a big help in the 1954-55 campaign.

The Kingston fans looked on impassively as the game started but soon the Middies were in their possession folderol and the fun started. They tied the score at 3-3, then 7-7. Godwin went under and Bezemer hit with a jump to make it 11-7 but Bob Depew's foul and Rod Whitby's pop shot closed the quarter 11-10 Kingston.

It was touch and go until a 17-17 deadlock at 2:00 of the second quarter. Then Kingston embarked on a spree that racked up 17 straight points. From 17-17 it went to 34-17 and the Maroon fans sat back to enjoy the rest of the night.

Bezemer Hits Five

Dick Bezemer scored five straight points to take the heat off Kingston as the half closed out. First he converted a free throw. Twice he tapped in deuces from scrambles under the basket. That gave him five in a row.

Brodhead intercepted a pass and drove in for a three-pointer as the second half opened. Godwin took a pass from Bezemer and flying under. Brodhead repeated and added a free throw. Godwin then tapped in a deuce and followed with a driving layup. That made it 34-17 and a string of 17 straight points. Rod Whitby broke up the carnage with a foul shot at 3:48. The Middie dream was over.

QUICK TAKES: Bill Williams, the Middies' star center, missed the game. He is in the hospital—virus. His sub, George Nye, and Tony Marcello, the sprinter, tied with 9 points. A collection for the Heart Fund drive netted $85.85, a couple of pieces of gum and a Wilson memorial coin, Abe Molyneaux, Fund chairman, reported. Two distinguished visitors in the audience—Sam Kalloch, Poughkeepsie; George "Lanky" Masterson, NFA. Both taking notes copiously. Next Friday—Port Jervis, most improved club in the league. Tuesday—the big one—at Poughkeepsie.

Jayvees Rally to Beat Middies in Prelim

Score 20 Points In Final Period For 47-39 Win

Kantrowitz Sparks Last Period Rally

Exploding for a 20-point fourth period, the KHS Jayvees stopped the Middletown yearlings, 47-39, after many vexing moments in last night's prelim at the field house.

For the first time this season, Coach John Gilligan's cagers trailed through three periods and well into the fourth.

Eventually, the sharpshooting of Marty Kantrowitz, Richie Strong, Jim Jackson and Alo Saluste made the difference.

Middletown led 12-6 at the quarter, 23-10 at the half and 31-27 mainly on the strangth of some brilliant foul shooting. The visitors were restricted to nine baskets but made 21 foul conversions to keep alive.

Kantrowitz Hits 17

Kantrowitz again led the Jayvees with 17 points and got seven in the crucial fourth period. Strong hit four in that quarter and 10 for the game. Jim Jackhad three and Saluste picked up four of his six points in the stretch run.

Springstead scored 9 and Ray Berger had eight for Middletown.

Officials Blow Duke; Italo Blows His Top, but Joey Wins

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Joey Giambra lost face, Italo Scortichini lost the decision and TV fans lost their temper.

That was the net result of last night's 10-round cross country race at Madison Square Garden where Giambra won an unpopular split decision over Scortichini.

One TV viewer even called The Associated Press office in New York from Los Angeles to protest about the "lousy" decision. Most of the 3,011 who paid $7,481 to watch in person bombarded the officials with their boos.

Judge Frank Forbes voted for Giambra 7-3 and Referee Ruby Goldstein also gave Giambra the edge 6-3-1. Judge Artie Aidala saw it for Scortichini 5-4-1. The AP card agreed with Aidala. Eight of 13 ringside boxing writers sided with Scortichini.

Giambra, a 1-4 favorite, even disappointed his manager, Tex Sullivan, although Tex thought he won all the way. Sullivan was puzzled by Joey's light weight of 155¼ to Scortichini's 153¾.

"He didn't look like the real Giambra until the late rounds," said Sullivan.

The fighter had a strange explanation. He said he had gone "right hand crazy" in his most recent fights so had decided to concentrate on developing the left. He concentrated too much.

As you may have concluded, there is no raging demand for a rematch. Giambra's camp sees little use in it and the customer's can't see it at all, or hope they won't.

Scortichini confused Giambra, the No. 8 ranking middleweight, by backing away and circling, first one way and then the other. Sporadically he leaped in with body blows, usually smothering Giambra's long arms.

Down the stretch, Giambra did open up with his right but he showed little fire. His combination were few and far between. Still, he did make the chase, ineffective as it was, scoring with his left jab.

From this corner, Scortichini seemed to outfox Joey, throwing him off stride. If anybody wanted to argue seriously that the fight should have been scored 0-0 with 10 even, he wouldn't get much of an argument here.

The only blood letting was a steady drip from the left side of Giambra, who's 5-foot-11 inches towered over the sturdy 5-foot-7 inch Italian. The cut opened in the second round and the blood never really stopped.

Foster Hits 27 as Orange-Blue Gains 6th Win

New Paltz Teachers grabbed an early lead and racked up a 30-point second quarter to humble Drew University of New Jersey, 76-64, last night at the New Paltz gym.

It was the sixth win of the season for Coach Loren D. Campbell's Orange and Blue.

New Paltz led 17-12 at the quarter and the big second quarter spree sent them ahead 47-34 at intermission time.

Woodstock Varsity played it according to plan last night against Back's Cedaraps of the YMCA League. They had a characteristically strong first half to lead 44-23, slumped in the third period and finished with a burst of power.

The net result was an 85-65 conquest of the locals on the village court.

Jerry Kaplan, one of the better young scorers in the city, topped the Cedaraps with 20 markers. Bruce Hinkley hooped 13 and Byron Chatam had 12.

President Hunts Quail

Thomasville, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower, 10 quail to his credit already, arranged an early start today in a quest for more birds. The President bagged the 10—two shy of the daily limit—within three hours after he arrived here yesterday afternoon to spend the weekend at the vacation plantation of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. Eisenhower and his party scheduled an early breakfast today and planned to spend most of the day in the fields with bird dogs and shotguns. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, withheld comment last night on a report that the President is planning to travel to Palm Springs, Calif., next week.

Warriors Thrive On Busy Slate; Six Out of 10

(By The Associated Press)

Anyone who didn't see the world by joining the navy might consider hooking up with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors have criss-crossed the eastern half of the United States from Baltimore to Huron, S. D., back to Philadelphia and again into the midwest for nine games in the past 10 nights. The marathon schedule seems to agree with the club. It's won six of the games—a .633 clip—far above its season average of .423.

The Warriors tangle with Minneapolis in Grand Rapids, Mich., tonight and Fort Wayne in the Indiana city Sunday before getting another day of rest.

Joe Graboski got the winning goal for Philadelphia last night in its 75-72 conquest of the last place Eastern division Bullets. He also was the high scorer for the winners with 22 points.

Milwaukee, last in the Western division, upset Minneapolis, the Western leader, 71-62 in the other half of the Toledo doubleheader. The victory snapped a four game losing streak for the Hawks who have won only 14 games all season.

Other games tonight match Boston against the Bullets in Baltimore, and Fort Wayne at New York. Syracuse plays at Rochester in this afternoon's televised contest (Dumont).

Crusaders Bid For Second Spot

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Holy Cross was ready to challenge La Salle as the east's No. 2 basketball team today after a clear cut 68-54 victory over Fordham.

The top spot, of course, goes to the Dukes of Duquesne, who've won 19 without defeat, but Holy Cross now boasts a 17-1 slate, thanks to last night's big win. Duquesne is ranked second nationally, La Salle seventh and Holy Cross ninth.

With Ed Conlin once again leading the way, Fordham got off in front, but the Rams couldn't hold the pace. Holy Cross was a point ahead by the end of the quarter, and pulled away slowly but steadily. It was 49-41 after three quarters when Holy Cross's Togo Palazzi suffered an eye cut inflicted by a stray elbow. The loss of their high scorer (24 points), didn't stop the Crusaders, however. Conlin was high for the game with 31.

Cards Start Drills

Deland, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—A squad of 75 St. Louis Cardinals baseball players, including 14 from the parent team, began pre-spring training workouts here yesterday. Cardinal coaches Mike Ryba, Bill Posedel and Johnny Riddle are directing the workouts along with managers of minor league Cardinal farms. Cardinal Manager Eddie Stanky is expected to come from his Fairhope, Ala., home for three days next week.

Good Skiing Set for Area

Area skiers were expected to find conditions ranging from good to fair at Belleayre and Highmount Center over the weekend.

The Belleayre report was 4 inches settled, 4-14 packed, fair to good. Highmount had 4 powder, 2-10 packed, fair to good. Phoenicia was rated fair.

Jade is the most popular of precious stones in China.

The young generation got a taste of "old time" basketball at the Kate Walton field house last night. And they didn't like what they saw. At least, not the first half.

They saw a smartly-coached Middletown High school squad employ the old "possession basketball" gimmick in an effort to harrass Kingston High and draw the Maroons into excessive fouling. They used collapsing defenses and everything designed to throw the game back into the Neanderthal period of the standing guard, figure-8 passing and the set shot from the outside.

Well, sir, for at least one half they made Kingston High look mighty bad. The Maroon partisans booed and stamped but the Middies clung tenaciously to their freezing and stalling tactics.

Kingston had to battle mightily for an 11-10 lead at the quarter and 22-17 at the half, the lowest halftime score since the center tap was eliminated and the fast break installed in basketball.

But Coach Bob Markes, who had luxuriated in Kingston's uncomfortable plight in the first half, saw his dream of an upset blow up in his face. When it was all over he gathered his flock around him in the dressing room and said: "Boys, we gave it a good try. We sure made them look uncomfortable in that first half."

If the suspense is killing you, let's hasten to reveal that Kingston eventually captured the victory by the ridiculous margin of 63 to 29. But the final score will never tell the real story. So KHS stays unbeaten, with 12 straight in the DUSO conference.

A couple of intercepted passes started the Maroon juggernaut rolling in the third period. And there was old "Mr. Clutch" himself—John Godwin—right in the middle of the Kingston rally that demolished the game but outclassed Middies.

Godwin poured six shots through the hoop. Skip Brodhead scored eight points and Bob Maines rimmed four as Kingston ran off 12 consecutive points to widen a 22-17 lead to 34-17 and blow the game wide open.

Bezemer started as briskly as usual with seven points in the first and second periods. He finished with 19 points for high score honors. Godwin had 17 and Brodhead 15. Bob Maines hooped eight and looked like a man who could be a big help in the 1954-55 campaign.

The Kingston fans looked on impassively as the game started but soon the Middies were in their possession folderol and the fun started. They tied the score at 3-3, then 7-7. Godwin went under and Bezemer hit with a jump to make it 11-7 but Bob Depew's foul and Rod Whitby's pop shot closed the quarter 11-10 Kingston.

It was touch and go until a 17-17 deadlock at 2:00 of the second quarter. Then Kingston embarked on a spree that racked up 17 straight points. From 17-17 it went to 34-17 and the Maroon fans sat back to enjoy the rest of the night.

Bezemer Hits Five

Dick Bezemer scored five straight points to take the heat off Kingston as the half closed out. First he converted a free throw. Twice he tapped in deuces from scrambles under the basket. That gave him five in a row.

Brodhead intercepted a pass and drove in for a three-pointer as the second half opened. Godwin took a pass from Bezemer and flying under. Brodhead repeated and added a free throw. Godwin then tapped in a deuce and followed with a driving layup. That made it 34-17 and a string of 17 straight points. Rod Whitby broke up the carnage with a foul shot at 3:48. The Middie dream was over.

QUICK TAKES: Bill Williams, the Middies' star center, missed the game. He is in the hospital—virus. His sub, George Nye, and Tony Marcello, the sprinter, tied with 9 points. A collection for the Heart Fund drive netted $85.85, a couple of pieces of gum and a Wilson memorial coin, Abe Molyneaux, Fund chairman, reported. Two distinguished visitors in the audience—Sam Kalloch, Poughkeepsie; George "Lanky" Masterson, NFA. Both taking notes copiously. Next Friday — Port Jervis, most improved club in the league. Tuesday—the big one—at Poughkeepsie.

Woodstock Tops Cedaraps, 85-65

Woodstock Varsity played it according to plan last night against Back's Cedaraps of the YMCA League. They had a characteristically strong first half to lead 44-23, slumped in the third period and finished with a burst of power.

The net result was an 85-65 conquest of the locals on the village court.

William 'Boo" Schaffer the new benedict led the Varsity with 21 points and Jim Riehl collected 18, taking up the slack with most of his markers after the recess. Big Sal Misasi rimmed 13.

Jerry Kaplan, one of the better young scorers in the city, topped the Cedaraps with 20 markers. Bruce Hinkley hooped 13 and Byron Chatam had 12.

Joneses at Shanahans

Tonight's Schedule

Joneses at Shanahans.
Walden at Schryvers.
Rapps at Ell. Economy.
Finkes at Elstons.

Leading by a game and a half over Poughkeepsie Cabs and Newburgh Tooheys, Jones Dairy faces a severe road challenge tonight at Ellenville Shanahans.

The Dairymen have a 53½-12½ record to 52-14 for the Cabs and Tooheys. The Shanahans, smarting from a 3-0 drubbing by the Cabs, are in fifth place with 38 wins and 28 losses.

Schryver Lumber (41-25) in fourth place, take on Walden Lewis at the Central Recs. Elstons (36½-29½) entertain Ellenville Finke's at the Bowlodrome, while Rapp's Express is at Ellenville Economy.

Ferraro Hitting 208

Johnny Ferraro is batting the maples at a sizzling 208.44 for a two-point plus lead over Poughkeepsie's Phil Versace (206.28) in three less games than Ferraro's 66.

President Hunts Quail

Thomasville, Ga., Feb. 13 (AP)—President Eisenhower, 10 quail to his credit already, arranged an early start today in a quest for more birds. The President bagged the 10—two shy of the daily limit—within three hours after he arrived here yesterday afternoon to spend the weekend at the vacation plantation of Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey. Eisenhower and his party scheduled an early breakfast today and planned to spend most of the day in the fields with bird dogs and shotguns. James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary, withheld comment last night on a report that the President is planning to travel to Palm Springs, Calif., next week.

Kantrowitz Sparks Last Period Rally

Exploding for a 20-point fourth period, the KHS Jayvees stopped the Middletown yearlings, 47-39, after many vexing moments in last night's prelim at the field house.

For the first time this season, Coach John Gilligan's cagers trailed through three periods and well into the fourth.

Eventually, the sharpshooting of Marty Kantrowitz, Richie Strong, Jim Jackson and Alo Saluste made the difference.

Middletown led 12-6 at the quarter, 23-10 at the half and 31-27 mainly on the strength of some brilliant foul shooting. The visitors were restricted to nine baskets but made 21 foul conversions to keep alive.

Kantrowitz Hits 17

Kantrowitz again led the Jayvees with 17 points and got seven in the crucial fourth period. Strong hit four in that quarter and 10 for the game. Jim Jackhad three and Saluste picked up four of his six points in the stretch run.

Springstead scored 9 and Ray Berger had eight for Middletown.

Warriors Thrive On Busy Slate; Six Out of 10

(By The Associated Press)

Anyone who didn't see the world by joining the navy might consider hooking up with the Philadelphia Warriors of the National Basketball Association.

The Warriors have criss-crossed the eastern half of the United States from Baltimore to Huron, S. D., back to Philadelphia and again into the midwest for nine games in the past 10 nights. The marathon schedule seems to agree with the club. It's won six of the games—a .633 clip—far above its season average of .423.

The Warriors tangle with Minneapolis in Grand Rapids, Mich., tonight and Fort Wayne in the Indiana city Sunday before getting another day of rest.

Joe Graboski got the winning goal for Philadelphia last night in its 75-72 conquest of the last place Eastern division Bullets. He also was the high scorer for the winners with 22 points.

Milwaukee, last in the Western division, upset Minneapolis, the Western leader, 71-62 in the other half of the Toledo doubleheader. The victory snapped a four game losing streak for the Hawks who have won only 14 games all season.

Other games tonight match Boston against the Bullets in Baltimore, and Fort Wayne at New York. Syracuse plays at Rochester in this afternoon's televised contest (Dumont).

Fights Last Night

(By The Associated Press)

New York (Madison Square Garden)—Joey Giambra, 155¼, Buffalo, N. Y. outpointed Italo Scorticini, 153¾, Rome, Italy, 10.

West Palm Beach, Fla.—Bobby Elliott, 151, Louisville, outpointed Chico Pacheco, 154, Rio De Janeiro, 10.

Officials Blow Duke; Italo Blows His Top, but Joey Wins

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Joey Giambra lost face, Italo Scortichini lost the decision and TV fans lost their temper.

That was the net result of last night's 10-round cross country race at Madison Square Garden where Giambra won an unpopular split decision over Scortichini.

One TV viewer even called The Associated Press office in New York from Los Angeles to protest about the "lousy" decision. Most of the 3,011 who paid $7,481 to watch in person bombarded the officials with their boos.

Judge Frank Forbes voted for Giambra 7-3 and Referee Ruby Goldstein also gave Giambra the edge 6-3-1. Judge Artie Aidala saw it for Scortichini 5-4-1. The AP card agreed with Aidala. Eight of 13 ringside boxing writers sided with Scortichini.

Giambra, a 1-4 favorite, even disappointed his manager, Tex Sullivan, although Tex thought he won all the way. Sullivan was puzzled by Joey's light weight of 155¼ to Scortichini's 153¾.

"He didn't look like the real Giambra until the late rounds," said Sullivan.

The fighter had a strange explanation. He said he had gone "right hand crazy" in his most recent fights so had decided to concentrate on developing the left. He concentrated too much.

As you may have concluded, there is no raging demand for a rematch. Giambra's camp sees little use in it and the customer's can't see it at all, or hope they won't.

Scortichini confused Giambra, the No. 8 ranking middleweight, by backing away and circling, first one way and then the other. Sporadically he leaped in with body blows, usually smothering Giambra's long arms.

Down the stretch, Giambra did open up with his right but he showed little fire. His combination were few and far between. Still, he did make the chase, ineffective as it was, scoring with his left jab.

From this corner, Scortichini seemed to outfox Joey, throwing him off stride. If anybody wanted to argue seriously that the fight should have been scored 0-0 with 10 even, he wouldn't get much of an argument here.

The only blood letting was a steady drip from the left side of Giambra, who's 5-foot-11 inches towered over the sturdy 5-foot-7 inch Italian. The cut opened in the second round and the blood never really stopped.

Foster Hits 27 as Orange-Blue Gains 6th Win

New Paltz Teachers grabbed an early lead and racked up a 30-point second quarter to humble Drew University of New Jersey, 76-64, last night at the New Paltz gym.

It was the sixth win of the season for Coach Loren D. Campbell's Orange and Blue.

Ronnie Foster, the Irvington junior, led the Orange with 27 points. Dick King of Herkimer and Jack Wulff of Hempstead tallied 15 apiece.

Individual scoring star was Drew's Stan Zwerling who rimmed 36 points wth a dozen fields and a dozen free throws.

New Paltz led 17-12 at the quarter and the big second quarter spree sent them ahead 47-34 at intermission time.

Crusaders Bid For Second Spot

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Holy Cross was ready to challenge La Salle as the east's No. 2 basketball team today after a clear cut 68-54 victory over Fordham.

The top spot, of course, goes to the Dukes of Duquesne, who've won 19 without defeat, but Holy Cross now boasts a 17-1 slate, thanks to last night's big win. Duquesne is ranked second nationally, La Salle seventh and Holy Cross ninth.

With Ed Conlin once again leading the way, Fordham got off in front, but the Rams couldn't hold the pace. Holy Cross was a point ahead by the end of the quarter, and pulled away slowly but steadily. It was 49-41 after three quarters when Holy Cross's Togo Palazzi suffered an eye cut inflicted by a stray elbow. The loss of their high scorer (24 points), didn't stop the Crusaders, however. Conlin was high for the game with 31.

FYL Meeting Set Monday

Fraternal Youth League managers and officials meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the downtown Recreation Center to formulate plans for the 1954 season.

Five teams competed last year and there is a strong possibility that the Kiwanis Club will sponsor a sixth team.

Leagues in the fold last year included the Elks, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Knights of Columbus, American Legion and Rotary.

Eight Teams Possible

"There is a good chance we might operate with as many as eight teams this year," Scribner said. "At the present time I cannot divulge the names of prospective sponsors but we're hoping to work out details in the next few weeks."

Other sources hinted that the FYL might leave municipal stadium in order to set up its own private field according to playing standards suitable to FYL baseball.

The league expansion and plans for a permanent FYL-owned diamond will be among the important topics up for discussion Monday.

Elks and KPBA Tie in Shuffle

Elks Club and Kingston Power Boat Association split their Intra-Fraternal Shuffleboard league match this week, 3-3, but the Antlers had a 115-105 point margin.

Herb Van Deusen and S. Finks led the Elks with 18 points, a total matched by Neil Wolf for the KPBA.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Dropping a 25-foot putt for a golf championship. The grand slam in baseball, a 95-yard TD run, the cold, clammy complete KO in boxing. These are among sport's top thrills.

But what about the professional ski jumper? Is there anything in all of sports more magnificent, more sweeping in grandeur than a ski jump by a pro? There isn't.

A human being takes a step forward which starts him on his way to a speed of 60 miles an hour while standing on his feet. It is not a matter of jumping from a plane with a parachute to break his fall. There is no teammate to help. Once he takes that step he cannot stop. He has no brakes. One slight bit of hesitancy and no one knows what will happen to him. It's all up to him—alone.

He has to travel about 283 feet before he is airborne, without wings. Then he gathers more speed. He leaps to add height and distance to the momentum he has gained. He is in the air. His body is thrown forward stretching and straining to gain that extra foot. His arms are out and back. Sometimes he moves them for balance. Other times having attained that, he holds them still like the slimmest of wings.

He flies through the air. Sometimes he tells you he is conscious. On other occasions he admits a blank. Yet, as he nears the earth, very possibly 200 feet from where he left it, he gathers his senses and lands on his feet. He glides down the steep drop, comes out on the flat and stops. Sometimes he still quivers from the exertion. He waits to hear how far he has jumped. That's the professional ski jumper—one of the mightiest of all athletes!

SCHUSS NOTES:

There is an interesting human interest story behind Caroline Draper's recent victory in the combined downhill slalom junior championships in Vermont. The 14-year Belleayre miss suffered serious leg injuries last year and it was feared she might never ski again. A New York specialist, who visited Belleayre, took her in tow and put her back in top physical condition. Still, she couldn't shake the jinx completely. In one of the events last week she suffered a charley horse and finished the last few yards on one ski. Leighton Cree of Pearl River High School is arranging a Section 9 ski meet at Highmount Center on Saturday, Feb. 27. All of the high schools in Section 9, including Kingston High, will be invited. The Ski Council of New Jersey plans its annual Junior and Novice slalom race at Highmount on Sunday, March 14.

KHS KEEPS INTEREST:

The Ski Club at Kingston High is now purely recreational, we understand. The varsity was formerly picked from among the better skiers in the club but until such time as present regulations affecting off time are changed at KHS, it will remain just that—recreational. One weekend recently a bus load of 36 members of the KHS Ski Club made a trip to Highmount Center. Considering there is no organized program or qualified instructor at the school, that represents a considerable show of interest. Belleayre's Junior Giant Slalom Trophy race carded Sunday, Feb. 21. About 300 to 400 high school boys and girls will participate in the annual Lake Placid Carnival this weekend. The winter sports school at St. Lawrence was not held this year because registration at the school was insufficient to meet the costs.

TWO MONTHS YET:

Ed Huben, the Central Hudson executive who serves as president of the New York Winter Sports Council, points that there are still nearly two months to enjoy the thrills of a trip to a winter sports center in New York state. He estimates that more than 150,000 skiers will have taken advantage of New York's snow by the end of this season. Snowfall studies show that February no longer closes the curtain on winter activities. As a result, March is recognized as a good time for additional scheduled sports such as the North American indoor speed skating championships at Lake Placid, March 6-7; skiing contests at Highmount on March 7, the skiers costume party on March 21. Then when spring comes, there's still time for a last fling at winter for those hardy souls who climb to the state's roof-top—a seven mile trip!—for a sporting day on Marcy's snowfields.

Russia Considered

Best Chance for Russians

Of the three, the first is believed to hold the best chance of success for the Russians.

The United States does not see eye to eye with Britain or France on policy toward Red China. Britain originally recognized the Communist government in Peiping.

British official opinion is expressed to this correspondent from London recently favors acknowledging "the fact that the present government is in power and is likely to stay in power. Therefore the best thing to do is to admit the fact and deal with it accordingly."

Also, trade considerations interest the British more than they do the Americans or French.

Stabbing Victim Is Identified as Red Who Quit Party

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—A man found dying of stab wounds in Harlem has been identified as a former Communist who trained in Moscow but later turned against the party.

The victim, Charles White, 51, a Negro, had appeared as a witness in deportation hearings against Communists and was scheduled for new testimony.

However, police maintain that his death had nothing to do with politics.

White was found in a Harlem doorway Thursday morning and was taken to Harlem Hospital, where he died later in the day. He was not identified until last night, when officials of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service viewed the body.

The official said White "probably had been scheduled to testify at some hearings next week." He did not say who was involved in the hearings.

The official agreed with police, saying he did not believe the hearings or politics were involved in the slaying. White was described by police as a "homeless derelict."

Became Real Patient

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Ballerina Tanaquil Leclercq was scheduled to dance the role of a patient last night in the ballet Opus 34, dealing with surgical operations. However, she didn't make it. Instead she found herseglf a real patient—in Polyclinic Hospital, where she underwent an appendectomy yesterday afternoon. Her condition is good, the hospital says. Because of her absence, the New York City Ballet Company was forced to substitute the ballet, Filling Station, for Opus 34.

Royalty Visit Doubted

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Buckingham Palace officials said today a New York report that Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh intend to visit the United States in the fall was news to them. They were inclined to doubt it. The New York Daily News published the report in a London dispatch. It quoted "a person close to the royal family" as saying the couple would make the visit as guests of President Eisenhower. A palace spokesman commented that "in evaluating such reports it should be borne in mind that a visit of such importance usually is planned as much as a year in advance."

Plans Nearing Climax

Honolulu, Feb. 13 (AP)—Preparations for the coming hydrogen bomb test series in the Pacific are nearing a climax, according to indications in this strategic mid-Pacific staging area. But there is no indication that any of the planned series of tests has actually started. A recent rash of Pacific area earthquakes has prompted speculation that an H-bomb already has been exploded but seismologists flatly deny the possibility of any such connection. They say the biggest bomb yet devised by man is still a peanut compared to the eruptions of nature.

Italian Police . . .

tablish the Roman Catholic religion as the Italian state religion.

The new Republican constitution says "all religious confessions are equal before the law."

Last month Dr. Cline Rex Paden of Brownfield and Lubbock, Tex., who first organized the Church of Christ in Italy, visited the United States to report on what he called "continued difficulties" of the Evangelical Church in Italy.

In the first collective letter of its kind, Italy's top Roman Catholic prelates warned Catholics Feb. 1 against what was described as Protestant propaganda. The letter, signed by the cardinal archbishops of eight major Italian cities and bishops and archbishops of 11 other cities, said:

"Prenicious errors are arising in Italy from Protestant propaganda which tends to menace the spiritual unity of the Italian people."

Dewey Signs . . .

by the state in the mental health field on the local level.

There now are 12 child-guidance clinics, which Dewey reports have been "most useful in providing diagnostic and treatment services."

There are community clinics at state hospitals and in nearby areas; projects at Roosevelt Hospital in New York city and Ellis Hospital in Schenectady, which Dewey says have developed "important patterns" for the provision of psychiatric services in general hospitals; and three residential treatment centers for emotionally disturbed children—in New York, Buffalo and Rhinebeck—established by voluntary child-care agencies working with the Mental Health Commission.

FYL Meeting Set Monday

Fraternal Youth League managers and officials meet Monday night at 8 o'clock at the downtown Recreation Center to formulate plans for the 1954 season.

Five teams competed last year and there is a strong possibility that the Kiwanis Club will sponsor a sixth team.

Leagues in the fold last year included the Elks, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Knights of Columbus, American Legion and Rotary.

Eight Teams Possible

"There is a good chance we might operate with as many as eight teams this year," Scribner said. "At the present time I cannot divulge the names of prospective sponsors but we're hoping to work out details in the next few weeks."

Other sources hinted that the FYL might leave municipal stadium in order to set up its own private field according to playing standards suitable to FYL baseball.

The league expansion and plans for a permanent FYL-owned diamond will be among the important topics up for discussion Monday.

Elks and KPBA Tie in Shuffle

Elks Club and Kingston Power Boat Association split their Intra-Fraternal Shuffleboard league match this week, 3-3, but the Antlers had a 115-105 point margin.

Herb Van Deusen and S. Finks led the Elks with 18 points, a total matched by Neil Wolf for the KPBA.

SPORTS

By Charles J. Tiano
Sports Editor

Dropping a 25-foot putt for a golf championship. The grand slam in baseball, a 95-yard TD run, the cold, clammy complete KO in boxing. These are among sport's top thrills.

But what about the professional ski jumper? Is there anything in all of sports more magnificent, more sweeping in grandeur than a ski jump by a pro? There isn't.

A human being takes a step forward which starts him on his way to a speed of 60 miles an hour while standing on his feet. It is not a matter of jumping from a plane with a parachute to break his fall. There is no teammate to help. Once he takes that step he cannot stop. He has no brakes. One slight bit of hesitancy and no one knows what will happen to him. It's all up to him—alone.

He has to travel about 283 feet before he is airborne, without wings. Then he gathers more speed. He leaps to add height and distance to the momentum he has gained. He is in the air. His body is thrown forward stretching and straining to gain that extra foot. His arms are out and back. Sometimes he moves them for balance. Other times having attained that, he holds them still like the slimmest of wings.

He flies through the air. Sometimes he tells you he is conscious. On other occasions he admits a blank. Yet, as he nears the earth, very possibly 200 feet from where he left it, he gathers his senses and lands on his feet. He glides down the steep drop, comes out on the flat and stops. Sometimes he still quivers from the exertion. He waits to hear how far he has jumped. That's the professional ski jumper—one of the mightiest of all athletes!

SCHUSS NOTES:

There is an interesting human interest story behind Caroline Draper's recent victory in the combined downhill slalom junior championships in Vermont. The 14-year Belleayre miss suffered serious leg injuries last year and it was feared she might never ski again. A New York specialist, who visited Belleayre, took her in tow and put her back in top physical condition. Still, she couldn't shake the jinx completely. In one of the events last week she suffered a charley horse and finished the last few yards on one ski. Leighton Cree of Pearl River High School is arranging a Section 9 ski meet at Highmount Center on Saturday, Feb. 27. All of the high schools in Section 9, including Kingston High, will be invited. The Ski Council of New Jersey plans its annual Junior and Novice slalom race at Highmount on Sunday, March 14.

Architect Joins Office as Associate

JOHN A. McCULLOUGH

Harry Halverson, architect, and a member of the American Institute of Architects with offices at 280 Wall street, Kingston, announced today that John A. McCullough has become an associate in the practice of architecture. He has been connected with Halverson's office since his return from World War 2 military service. He served as a lieutenant in the Naval Reserve.

McCullough is a native of Kingston and resides at 98 Spring street and is a son of Hugh McCullough, also of this city. He studied in the Kingston schools and received his undergraduate training and Bachelor of Architecture degree from Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy. While at Rensselaer he was a member of Theta Xi, national fraternity.

He was admitted to the practice of architecture as a registered architect by the New York State Board of Examiners in February 1952 and has received the certification of the National Council of Architectural Registration Boards, which makes available to him registration in all other states.

McCullough is a member of the Rondout Presbyterian Church, president of the Mendelssohn Club of this city and a member of the Kingston City Planning Board, having served on the board since its formation under appointment by former Mayor Oscar V. Newkirk in 1949.

Stabbing Victim Is Identified as Red Who Quit Party

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—A man found dying of stab wounds in Harlem has been identified as a former Communist who trained in Moscow but later turned against the party.

The victim, Charles White, 51, a Negro, had appeared as a witness in deportation hearings against Communists and was scheduled for new testimony.

However, police maintain that his death had nothing to do with politics.

White was found in a Harlem doorway Thursday morning and was taken to Harlem Hospital, where he died later in the day. He was not identified until last night, when officials of the U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service viewed the body.

The official said White "probably had been scheduled to testify at some hearings next week." He did not say who was involved in the hearings.

The official agreed with police, saying he did not believe the hearings or politics were involved in the slaying. White was described by police as a "homeless derelict."

Became Real Patient

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Ballerina Tanaquil Leclercq was scheduled to dance the role of a patient last night in the ballet Opus 34, dealing with surgical operations. However, she didn't make it. Instead she found herseglf a real patient—in Polyclinic Hospital, where she underwent an appendectomy yesterday afternoon. Her condition is good, the hospital says. Because of her absence, the New York City Ballet Company was forced to substitute the ballet, Filling Station, for Opus 34.

Royalty Visit Doubted

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—Buckingham Palace officials said today a New York report that Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh intend to visit the United States in the fall was news to them. They were inclined to doubt it. The New York Daily News published the report in a London dispatch. It quoted "a person close to the royal family" as saying the couple would make the visit as guests of President Eisenhower. A palace spokesman commented that "in evaluating such reports it should be borne in mind that a visit of such importance usually is planned as much as a year in advance."

Plans Nearing Climax

Honolulu, Feb. 13 (AP)—Preparations for the coming hydrogen bomb test series in the Pacific are nearing a climax, according to indications in this strategic mid-Pacific staging area. But there is no indication that any of the planned series of tests has actually started. A recent rash of Pacific area earthquakes has prompted speculation that an H-bomb already has been exploded but seismologists flatly deny the possibility of any such connection. They say the biggest bomb yet devised by man is still a peanut compared to the eruptions of nature.

Italian Police . . .

tablish the Roman Catholic religion as the Italian state religion.

The new Republican constitution says "all religious confessions are equal before the law."

Last month Dr. Cline Rex Paden of Brownfield and Lubbock, Tex., who first organized the Church of Christ in Italy, visited the United States to report on what he called "continued difficulties" of the Evangelical Church in Italy.

In the first collective letter of its kind, Italy's top Roman Catholic prelates warned Catholics Feb. 1 against what was described as Protestant propaganda. The letter, signed by the cardinal archbishops of eight major Italian cities and bishops and archbishops of 11 other cities, said:

"Prenicious errors are arising in Italy from Protestant propaganda which tends to menace the spiritual unity of the Italian people."

Dewey Signs . . .

by the state in the mental health field on the local level.

There now are 12 child-guidance clinics, which Dewey reports have been "most useful in providing diagnostic and treatment services."

There are community clinics at state hospitals and in nearby areas; projects at Roosevelt Hospital in New York city and Ellis Hospital in Schenectady, which Dewey says have developed "important patterns" for the provision of psychiatric services in general hospitals; and three residential treatment centers for emotionally disturbed children—in New York, Buffalo and Rhinebeck—established by voluntary child-care agencies working with the Mental Health Commission.

Wilson Criticizes Prosperity Link To Fighting Wars

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson says he has "no patience with the people who seem to think that blood spilling and jobs are synonymous."

Wilson, speaking last night to 800 persons at a Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican Club, added that there is no reason to fear the nation's shift from the Korean war footing to peace will lead to a depression.

The secretary, in attacking critics of the GOP administration, did not specifically identify his opponents with the Democratic party. Instead, he said:

"I have no patience with the people who seem to think that blood-spilling and jobs are synonymous. Nor do I go along with those who believe the only way we can keep everybody employed is by loosely spending a tremendous percentage of our resources in the production of war goods.

No Reason to Fear

"Some act like they believe we must have either war or unemployment. While we are in a transition from a shooting war to an uneasy peace, there is no reason to fear we are also in a transition from apparent prosperity and full employment to depression and widespread unemployment.

". . . There are those who scoff at and criticize every move we make to improve our defenses and at the same time stop waste. Such attacks I have learned to accept as an occupational hazard. . . ."

Wilson said war production makes "no contribution to real prosperity," adding:

Sets Living Standard

"Whatever we put into defense we take out of our standard of living."

He said the Communist world's failure to demobilize after World War 2 makes it necessary for the United States to be strong in both a military and an economic sense.

"There are those who contend that we cannot do both at the same time," Wilson continued. "We refuse to accept this defeatist attitude. We are making progress in achieving both of these objectives."

Wilson's speech was broadcast over the NBC and MBS radio networks.

Quill Wants Probe Of Jury System

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Michael J. Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers Union, and Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver have exchanged verbal punches over a grand jury indictment charging Quill with criminal libel.

Quill, indicted Thursday on three counts of malicious libel against City Transit Authority member Harris J. Klein, yesterday called the indictment "a political payoff" on the part of Silver.

Quill also said he was asking State Atty Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein to investigate " the abuse of the grand jury system in Brooklyn."

Silver accused Quill of using "blustering, vituperative phrases" and said the only issue involved is "Quill's false charges" against Klein.

The grand jury action grew out of Quill's accusation that Klein offered to support union wage demands if the TWU supported him for a city judgeship. Klein immediately denied the charge and threatened to sue for libel.

A fact-finding board set up by Mayor Robert F. Wagner is studying the wage dispute.

Lady of Fatima Experience Will Be on Air Sunday

The appearance of the Mother of God to three children at Fatima, Portugal, during World War 1 will be re-enacted on the Ave Maria Hour Sunday at 8:30 a. m., over station WKNY, through the cooperation of Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus.

During the appearance at Fatima, the Mother of God gave instructions for bringing about a permanent peace. Exhorted, threatened, then confined to a point of torture by their elders in an effort to make them deny their experience of the "Lady's" appearance, the children refused to retract.

Two of them departed this life while in their teens, as the "Lady" predicted, while the third, Lucia de Santos, now a nun of a religious order in Portugal, continues to carry out the instructions of Our Lady of Fatima.

The Sacred Heart program will be heard over WKNY weekdays at 6 a. m., and over WHUC, Hudson, weekdays at 10:45 a. m., and Sunday at 12:15 p. m.

Sets Living Standard

"Whatever we put into defense we take out of our standard of living."

He said the Communist world's failure to demobilize after World War 2 makes it necessary for the United States to be strong in both a military and an economic sense.

"There are those who contend that we cannot do both at the same time," Wilson continued. "We refuse to accept this defeatist attitude. We are making progress in achieving both of these objectives."

Wilson's speech was broadcast over the NBC and MBS radio networks.

Quill Wants Probe Of Jury System

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Michael J. Quill, head of the CIO Transport Workers Union, and Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver have exchanged verbal punches over a grand jury indictment charging Quill with criminal libel.

Quill, indicted Thursday on three counts of malicious libel against City Transit Authority member Harris J. Klein, yesterday called the indictment "a political payoff" on the part of Silver.

Quill also said he was asking State Atty Gen. Nathaniel Goldstein to investigate " the abuse of the grand jury system in Brooklyn."

Silver accused Quill of using "blustering, vituperative phrases" and said the only issue involved is "Quill's false charges" against Klein.

The grand jury action grew out of Quill's accusation that Klein offered to support union wage demands if the TWU supported him for a city judgeship. Klein immediately denied the charge and threatened to sue for libel.

A fact-finding board set up by Mayor Robert F. Wagner is studying the wage dispute.

Lady of Fatima Experience Will Be on Air Sunday

The appearance of the Mother of God to three children at Fatima, Portugal, during World War 1 will be re-enacted on the Ave Maria Hour Sunday at 8:30 a. m. over station WKNY, through the cooperation of Kingston Council No. 275, Knights of Columbus.

During the appearance at Fatima, the Mother of God gave instructions for bringing about a permanent peace. Exhorted, threatened, then confined to a point of torture by their elders in an effort to make them deny their experience of the "Lady's" appearance, the children refused to retract.

Two of them departed this life while in their teens, as the "Lady" predicted, while the third, Lucia de Santos, now a nun of a religious order in Portugal, continues to carry out the instructions of Our Lady of Fatima.

The Sacred Heart program will be heard over WKNY weekdays at 6 a. m., and over WHUC, Hudson, weekdays at 10:45 a. m., and Sunday at 12:15 p. m.

Lonely Laborer Dies, Assets Total $58,000

Piermont, Feb. 13 (AP)—Jacob Movich lived alone and quietly since coming to Piermont 22 years ago. He worked steadily as a laborer.

Beyond this, no one seemed to know anything about him or his family.

However, today he was a main subject of conversation and—in death—a bit more mysterious.

Movich, at the age of 72, dropped dead yesterday while shoveling coal at the paper mill where he worked.

Police checked his two-room apartment and found:

Some $13,000 in cash behind a bedroom baseboard; four savings bank account books, showing a total of $44,000 in deposits; six uncashed paychecks, amounting to $600, and an assortment of bonds—in all, assets of more than $58,000.

Weather Is Generally Clear in Eastern U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

The blast of cold air that chilled the midwest yesterday moved into the northeastern section of the country today with sub-zero readings in many areas.

At the same time, strong southerly winds sent warmer air into the mid-continent, with a forecast of mild winter weather for the weekend.

It was 21 degrees below zero today in Burlington, Vt., as the cold air moved southeastward from the northern midwest. The south also cooled off, with below freezing readings as far as Atlanta, Ga.

Generally clear skies prevailed over the eastern half of the nation except for the Great Lakes region which reported cloudiness and snow flurries.

In contrast to the cold, dry weather in the eastern half, there was general precipitation in the Far West.

Rosendale

Amateur Show Slated Tuesday, March 9

Rosendale, Feb. 13—The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Publicity Association was held Tuesday night at the Alpine.

Edmund O'Reilly, president, announced that the association will sponsor an amateur show Tuesday, March 9, at 8 p. m., in St. Peter's school hall, Rosendale. This show will be in connection with the Ted Mack amateur hour search for talent, and three or four of the winning acts of this show will have the opportunity to compete in the finals show to be held in Kingston March 17. At least one of the winning acts of the Kingston show will appear on the Mack TV show.

Amateurs who wish to enter the show must limit their act to not more than four minutes. Entry blanks may be obtained from association members or from the committee in charge which includes John Duffy, chairman, John Helmer, Edmund O'Reilly and Daniel McMonagle. It is expected that the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will send the judges for the show.

O'Reilly reported on the multiple dwelling law, and the association plans to contact the town board, requesting that they appoint a local enforcement officer as soon as possible. He said that failure to comply with the multiple dwelling law would put boarding house owners in a precarious position. The appointment of an enforcement officer now would make it possible for owners planning changes to consult with him first before going to the expense of making such changes.

John Helmer, secretary, was authorized to write letters to State Senator Arthur H. Wicks and other officials, protesting the proposed plan of the Arborio Construction Company using building lots along Dug Road in Tillson for the removal of soil for fill, and leaving the land with deep excavations, thereby causing hazardous conditions to exist.

The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday evening, March 16, at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale.

Scouts Hold Rally As Birthday Fete

Saugerties, Feb. 12—The Saugerties District Boy Scouts displayed to nearly 300 people what will probably stand as the biggest scouting show of the year in Saugerties. In celebrating the 44th Anniversary of scouting, the Saugerties Boy Scouts presented their rally Wednesday night at municipal auditorium.

District Commissioner William Plimley introduced Raymond Quackenbush, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council immediately following the openning ceremonies. Quackenbush greeted the gathering and welcomed them in the name of the council.

Cub Pack 130 of Saugerties presented a ritual, showing the procedure of introducing a boy into the cub scouts as a Bobcat. Hilton Long played the part of the cub which also cast William Ormandy as cubmaster and Hubert Legg as assistant cubmaster. Both actually serve in that capacity in Pack 130. A ceremony was then held which portrayed how a boy graduates into Webelos which is the highest rank in cub scouting. This part was played by Philip Shooski. In this scene Mrs. Philip Shooski, the boys mother, was called to the stage to portray the role she would normally play at an actual graduation. This is where the play acting stopped and reality began. Philip Shooski was thereby actually graduated into Boy Scout Troop 32 of Saugerties and Senior Patrol Leader Richard Brackett took him in charge prepared him for his investiture into Troop 32.

Following the Boy Scout Investiture an Explorer Investiture was conducted by Explorer Post 130 of Saugerties. Vincent Schaffer of Troop 33, Malden-West Camp was the nominee and members of Post 130 participating included Gene Lang, Robert Cutler, Wilbur Wynne, Carl Mehlig and Leo Ostoyic.

Plimley, as advisor to Post 130, also participated in the Explorer Investiture. Between scenes Cub Pack 130, Troop 32, and Troop 31 made song presentations.

A play entitled, I Want To Be A Boy Scout, was presented by Troop 33 of Malden and West Camp. Those participating were John Bennett, Gene Lang, Wilbur Wynne and William Brockway.

Two Boy Scouts of each unit then portrayed a hiking and camping scene. During the camping scene a scouting chant entitled, Imaginary Hike was lead by Senior Patrol Leader Richard Brackett of Troop 32.

Dennis Makes Awards

At one point in the program George V. Dennis, scout executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council was introduced and he briefly addressed the gathering. Dennis also presented two special awards earned by local troops. Troop 32 of Saugerties for it's high rating in the 1953 Council Wide Advancement Contest and also Troop 37 of Quarryville who received a plaque for advancement. Patrol Leader Marzel Roming accepted the award for Troop 32. In closing Dennis congratulated the program committee for the fine attendance and the excellent program.

Visitors from Kingston were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eighmey of Cub Pack 15 in Kingston. Eighmey is cubmaster of Pack 15 and Mrs. Eighmey serves as a den mother in the pack.

The awards for the best window and floor displays at the rally were presented to Cub Pack 130, Troop 32, both of Saugerties, and Troop 31 of Centerville in that order. Due to the close scoring for third place Troop 36 of Saugerties received honorable mention.

Other Saugerties scouting officials present were Raymond Ruby, assistant district chairman; John Paige, Larry Spatz, Eugene Davis, Albert Cawein, neighborhood commissioners; and Jack Nobel, organization and extension chairman.

Dartballers Plan Finals and Banquet

Saugerties, Feb. 13—The Saugerties Dartball League at a special meeting called by President Woodrow Sperl and held at the Centerville Church Hall Wednesday night outlined plans for the annual banquet and the Saugerties dartball finals.

The meeting was called to verify earlier arrangements made at the fall meeting. The date for the quarter finals was set for March 29 at which time the first and fourth teams in each division and the second and third teams play-off to see who will participate in the semi-finals. The semi-finals scheduled for the following Monday, April 5 should result in one winner from each division. These finalists will participate in the Saugerties finals which is better known as the Saugerties World Series.

The annual banquet is to be held prior to the finals. The members assembled voted that the finals be won by the team winning the best three out of five games. Regular season rules call for the best two out of three. Before the play-offs the winners of each division will be awarded two dozen darts. However, the winner of the finals will be awarded the new playing board that will be used for the series and the Saugerties Dartball League Trophy. The loser of the finals receives the two dozen new darts which are used in the series.

Unknown Amateur Tops Women Pros

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—The country's top women pros had to look up to an 18-year-old amateur from San Diego starting the second round of the 54-hole St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf tournament today.

Her total of 68 was a stroke better than Babe Zaharias of Tampa and Beverly Hanson of Indo, Calif.

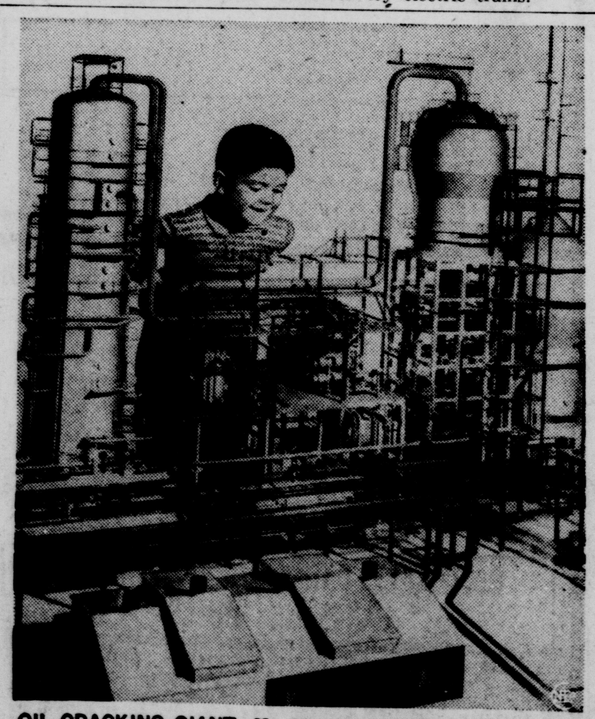
Miss Hanson had a steady 34-35—69.

Train Race Planned

Slippery Rock, Pa. (AP)—Several civic clubs here are sponsoring a train race in which each contestant must provide his own train. It's not as gigantic an undertaking as it might seem. The contest is for toy electric trains.



OIL-CRACKING GIANT—No, it's not a toy for this little boy. It's a model of a new oil plant. The unit is called a catalytic cracker and it will split petroleum molecules to make more and better gasoline. According to officials of the Shell Oil Company in Norco, La., it will produce about one million gallons of gasoline a day besides huge quantities of other petroleum products. The model, built to ¼-inch scale, serves as an engineering aid.

Some Bad Hands Give Many Thrills

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Certain unfortunate hands give you a big thrill even if you happen to be on the wrong side of them. After a short time, the sting of defeat vanishes, and you are able to view the hand with amusement and perhaps even pride.

For example, take the case of the player who held the West cards in the hand given today. He wasn't very pleased with the results at first, but he gained a bridge story that very few bridge players will be able to top. West made an opening lead that cost twenty-six tricks.

Perhaps we had better gloss over the bidding. South knew that he didn't have a real spade stopper, but he hoped that his partner had a high spade or that West wouldn't lead the suit, or that West would underlead the ace and king.

It didn't seem to South that he had a game in diamonds (and of course he was perfectly right) and he thought that the most likely game was at no-trump. I wouldn't dream of recommending South's bid of three no-trump, but I'm glad he made it since otherwise we wouldn't have this story.

West thought that South had a stopper in spades. In this case the only chance to bring in the spade suit consisted in leading a low spade in the hope that East had two cards in the suit and some fast entry. Hence West opened his fourth-best spade.

South won the first spade trick, and quickly took seven diamonds and five clubs for the rest of the tricks.

If West had opened the king of spades, he would have seen the whole story very quickly. He would continue with the ace of spades and then run the rest of his seven-card suit.

East would promptly discard the worthless clubs and diamond, making it clear that he wanted a shift to hearts whenever West got finished with his spades. West would obediently lead the ten of hearts, whereupon East would take the rest of the tricks with hearts. The defenders would take thirteen thricks instead of losing thirteen tricks.

January Milk Price Established at $4.30

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Dairy farmers will receive $4.30 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) as the uniform price for milk delivered to 405 approved pool plants during January in the six-state New York milkshed.

C. J. Blanford, market administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, made the announcement yesterday.

The December price was $4.56 per hundredweight, while in January, 1953, the price was $4.50.

Blanford also quoted a producer butterfat differential of 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the standard 3.5 per cent.

Panter Meets Turner In Tonight's TV Bout

Salt Lake City, Feb. 13 (AP)—Middleweight Garth Panter may be a home-town boy, but since Jesse Turner blew into town Tuesday Salt Lake City fight fans have expressed more interest in the sparkling showing made by the St. Louis Negro in his workouts.

And from all appearances, the 24-year-old Turner will hold a slight edge in odds when he and Panter climb into the ring tonight for their nationally televised bout at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The 10-round scrap, scheduled to begin at 9 p. m (EST) will be carried by the ABC television network.

Class Signals Automatic

Urbana-Champaign, Ill. (AP)—The school routine of 15,797 University of Illinois students and instructors is geared to an automatic time system. Perforated tapes used in the mechanism of six program clocks in the Engineerin Research Laboratory control the ringing of bells in 50 buildings. A network of 1,000 miles of underground cables is used to synchronize the system in each classroom. The bells ring at the start and end of each 50 minute class period. The bells don't ring on Saturday afternoon, Sundays and holidays because calendar wheels on the master clocks shut them off.

More Women Drivers

Ames, Iowa (AP)—Dr. A. R. Lauer, auto driving specialist at Iowa State College, says statistics show the proportion of women drivers is on the increase but men still do most the driving. Since 1951 the proportion of women drivers has increased from one out of four to one out of three. But men still drive 80 per cent of the annual mileage.

Lonely Laborer Dies, Assets Total $58,000

Piermont, Feb. 13 (AP)—Jacob Movich lived alone and quietly since coming to Piermont 22 years ago. He worked steadily as a laborer.

Beyond this, no one seemed to know anything about him or his family.

However, today he was a main subject of conversation and—in death—a bit more mysterious.

Movich, at the age of 72, dropped dead yesterday while shoveling coal at the paper mill where he worked.

Police checked his two-room apartment and found:

Some $13,000 in cash behind a bedroom baseboard; four savings bank account books, showing a total of $44,000 in deposits; six uncashed paychecks, amounting to $600, and an assortment of bonds—in all, assets of more than $58,000.

Weather Is Generally Clear in Eastern U. S.

(By The Associated Press)

The blast of cold air that chilled the midwest yesterday moved into the northeastern section of the country today with sub-zero readings in many areas.

At the same time, strong southerly winds sent warmer air into the mid-continent, with a forecast of mild winter weather for the weekend.

It was 21 degrees below zero today in Burlington, Vt., as the cold air moved southeastward from the northern midwest. The south also cooled off, with below freezing readings as far as Atlanta, Ga.

Generally clear skies prevailed over the eastern half of the nation except for the Great Lakes region which reported cloudiness and snow flurries.

In contrast to the cold, dry weather in the eastern half, there was general precipitation in the Far West.

Rosendale

Amateur Show Slated Tuesday, March 9

Rosendale, Feb. 13—The regular monthly meeting of the Rosendale Publicity Association was held Tuesday night at the Alpine.

Edmund O'Reilly, president, announced that the association will sponsor an amateur show Tuesday, March 9, at 8 p. m., in St. Peter's school hall, Rosendale. This show will be in connection with the Ted Mack amateur hour search for talent, and three or four of the winning acts of this show will have the opportunity to compete in the finals show to be held in Kingston March 17. At least one of the winning acts of the Kingston show will appear on the Mack TV show.

Amateurs who wish to enter the show must limit their act to not more than four minutes. Entry blanks may be obtained from association members or from the committee in charge which includes John Duffy, chairman, John Helmer, Edmund O'Reilly and Daniel McMonagle. It is expected that the Kingston Chamber of Commerce will send the judges for the show.

O'Reilly reported on the multiple dwelling law, and the association plans to contact the town board, requesting that they appoint a local enforcement officer as soon as possible. He said that failure to comply with the multiple dwelling law would put boarding house owners in a precarious position. The appointment of an enforcement officer now would make it possible for owners planning changes to consult with him first before going to the expense of making such changes.

John Helmer, secretary, was authorized to write letters to State Senator Arthur H. Wicks and other officials, protesting the proposed plan of the Arborio Construction Company using building lots along Dug Road in Tillson for the removal of soil for fill, and leaving the land with deep excavations, thereby causing hazardous conditions to exist.

The next meeting of the association will be held Tuesday evening, March 16, at Sportsmen's Park, Rosendale.

Scouts Hold Rally As Birthday Fete

Saugerties, Feb. 12—The Saugerties District Boy Scouts displayed to nearly 300 people what will probably stand as the biggest scouting show of the year in Saugerties. In celebrating the 44th Anniversary of scouting, the Saugerties Boy Scouts presented their rally Wednesday night at municipal auditorium.

District Commissioner William Plimley introduced Raymond Quackenbush, president of the Rip Van Winkle Council immediately following the openning ceremonies. Quackenbush greeted the gathering and welcomed them in the name of the council.

Cub Pack 130 of Saugerties presented a ritual, showing the procedure of introducing a boy into the cub scouts as a Bobcat. Hilton Long played the part of the cub which also cast William Ormandy as cubmaster and Hubert Legg as assistant cubmaster. Both actually serve in that capacity in Pack 130. A ceremony was then held which portrayed how a boy graduates into Webelos which is the highest rank in cub scouting. This part was played by Philip Shooski. In this scene Mrs. Philip Shooski, the boys mother, was called to the stage to portray the role she would normally play at an actual graduation. This is where the play acting stopped and reality began. Philip Shooski was thereby actually graduated into Boy Scout Troop 32 of Saugerties and Senior Patrol Leader Richard Brackett took him in charge prepared him for his investiture into Troop 32.

Following the Boy Scout Investiture an Explorer Investiture was conducted by Explorer Post 130 of Saugerties. Vincent Schaffer of Troop 33, Malden-West Camp was the nominee and members of Post 130 participating included Gene Lang, Robert Cutler, Wilbur Wynne, Carl Mehlig and Leo Ostoyic.

Plimley, as advisor to Post 130, also participated in the Explorer Investiture. Between scenes Cub Pack 130, Troop 32, and Troop 31 made song presentations.

A play entitled, I Want To Be A Boy Scout, was presented by Troop 33 of Malden and West Camp. Those participating were John Bennett, Gene Lang, Wilbur Wynne and William Brockway.

Two Boy Scouts of each unit then portrayed a hiking and camping scene. During the camping scene a scouting chant entitled, Imaginary Hike was lead by Senior Patrol Leader Richard Brackett of Troop 32.

Dennis Makes Awards

At one point in the program George V. Dennis, scout executive of the Rip Van Winkle Council was introduced and he briefly addressed the gathering. Dennis also presented two special awards earned by local troops. Troop 32 of Saugerties for it's high rating in the 1953 Council Wide Advancement Contest and also Troop 37 of Quarryville who received a plaque for advancement. Patrol Leader Marzel Roming accepted the award for Troop 32. In closing Dennis congratulated the program committee for the fine attendance and the excellent program.

Visitors from Kingston were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eighmey of Cub Pack 15 in Kingston. Eighmey is cubmaster of Pack 15 and Mrs. Eighmey serves as a den mother in the pack.

The awards for the best window and floor displays at the rally were presented to Cub Pack 130, Troop 32, both of Saugerties, and Troop 31 of Centerville in that order. Due to the close scoring for third place Troop 36 of Saugerties received honorable mention.

Other Saugerties scouting officials present were Raymond Ruby, assistant district chairman; John Paige, Larry Spatz, Eugene Davis, Albert Cawein, neighborhood commissioners; and Jack Nobel, organization and extension chairman.

Dartballers Plan Finals and Banquet

Saugerties, Feb. 13—The Saugerties Dartball League at a special meeting called by President Woodrow Sperl and held at the Centerville Church Hall Wednesday night outlined plans for the annual banquet and the Saugerties dartball finals.

The meeting was called to verify earlier arrangements made at the fall meeting. The date for the quarter finals was set for March 29 at which time the first and fourth teams in each division and the second and third teams play-off to see who will participate in the semi-finals. The semi-finals scheduled for the following Monday, April 5 should result in one winner from each division. These finalists will participate in the Saugerties finals which is better known as the Saugerties World Series.

The annual banquet is to be held prior to the finals. The members assembled voted that the finals be won by the team winning the best three out of five games. Regular season rules call for the best two out of three. Before the play-offs the winners of each division will be awarded two dozen darts. However, the winner of the finals will be awarded the new playing board that will be used for the series and the Saugerties Dartball League Trophy. The loser of the finals receives the two dozen new darts which are used in the series.

Unknown Amateur Tops Women Pros

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 13 (AP)—The country's top women pros had to look up to an 18-year-old amateur from San Diego starting the second round of the 54-hole St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf tournament today.

Blonde Mickey Wright sprayed birdies all over the back nine for a six-under-par 31 yesterday to go with a par 37 on the front nine.

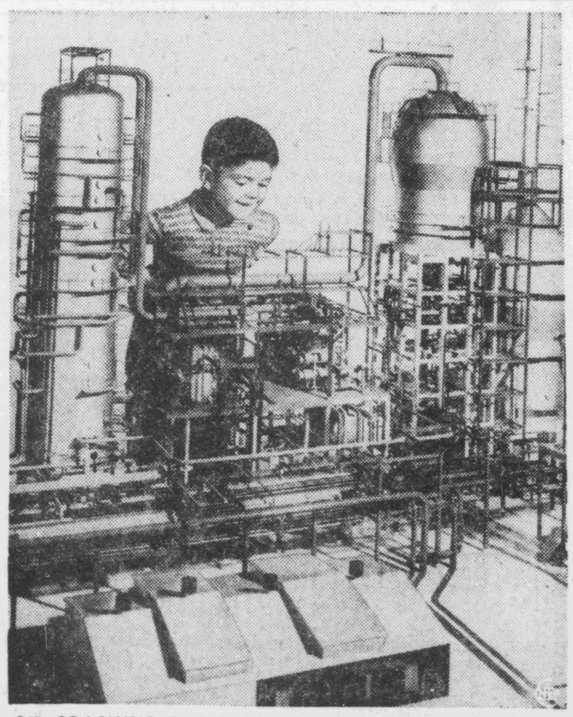
Her total of 68 was a stroke better than Babe Zaharias of Tampa and Beverly Hanson of Indo, Calif.

The Babe come back stronger than she started, turning in 36-33—69.

Miss Hanson had a steady 34-35—69.

Train Race Planned

Slippery Rock, Pa. (AP)—Several civic clubs here are sponsoring a train race in which each contestant must provide his own train. It's not as gigantic an undertaking as it might seem. The contest is for toy electric trains.



OIL-CRACKING GIANT—No, it's not a toy for this little boy. It's a model of a new oil plant. The unit is called a catalytic cracker and it will split petroleum molecules to make more and better gasoline. According to officials of the Shell Oil Company in Norco, La., it will produce about one million gallons of gasoline a day besides huge quantities of other petroleum products. The model, built to ¼-inch scale, serves as an engineering aid.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

Certain unfortunate hands give you a big thrill even if you happen to be on the wrong side of them. After a short time, the sting of defeat vanishes, and you are able to view the hand with amusement and perhaps even pride.

For example, take the case of the player who held the West cards in the hand given today. He wasn't very pleased with the results at first, but he gained a bridge story that very few bridge players will be able to top. West made an opening lead that cost twenty-six tricks.

Perhaps we had better gloss over the bidding. South knew that he didn't have a real spade stopper, but he hoped that his partner had a high spade or that West wouldn't lead the suit, or that West would underlead the ace and king.

It didn't seem to South that he had a game in diamonds (and of course he was perfectly right) and he thought that the most likely game was at no-trump. I wouldn't dream of recommending South's bid of three no-trump, but I'm glad he made it since otherwise we wouldn't have this story.

West thought that South had a stopper in spades. In this case the only chance to bring in the spade suit consisted in leading a low spade in the hope that East had two cards in the suit and some fast entry. Hence West opened his fourth-best spade.

South won the first spade trick, and quickly took seven diamonds and five clubs for the rest of the tricks.

If West had opened the king of spades, he would have seen the whole story very quickly. He would continue with the ace of spades and then run the rest of his seven-card suit.

East would promptly discard the worthless clubs and diamond, making it clear that he wanted a shift to hearts whenever West got finished with his spades. West would obediently lead the ten of hearts, whereupon East would take the rest of the tricks with hearts. The defenders would take thirteen thricks instead of losing thirteen tricks.

January Milk Price Established at $4.30

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Dairy farmers will receive $4.30 per hundredweight (46.5 quarts) as the uniform price for milk delivered to 405 approved pool plants during January in the six-state New York milkshed.

The December price was $4.56 per hundredweight, while in January, 1953, the price was $4.50.

Blanford also quoted a producer butterfat differential of 5.8 cents for each tenth of a pound of fat above or below the standard 3.5 per cent.

Panter Meets Turner In Tonight's TV Bout

Salt Lake City, Feb. 13 (AP)—Middleweight Garth Panter may be a home-town boy, but since Jesse Turner blew into town Tuesday Salt Lake City fight fans have expressed more interest in the sparkling showing made by the St. Louis Negro in his workouts.

And from all appearances, the 24-year-old Turner will hold a slight edge in odds when he and Panter climb into the ring tonight for their nationally televised bout at the Fairgrounds Coliseum. The 10-round scrap, scheduled to begin at 9 p. m (EST) will be carried by the ABC television network.
